Important issues to be decided in voting Tuesday

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

In an election that has captured the intense interest of most Quad-Cityans, five proposals will be decided tomorrow and voters also will choose more than a dozen national, state, district and Madison County officials.

Voting places will be open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday. A relatively heavy turnout is expected at the 37 vote centers in Granite City, 12 in Nameoki Township, 11 in Venice Township.

Township and seven in Chouteau Township.

TOP LOCAL ISSUES are two financial proposals by Granite City Community Unit School District Nine—issuing $6,600,000 in 10-year working cash fund bonds, which would cost an estimated 40-cent annual tax rate, and increasing the education fund rate limit by 40 cents for an indefinite period. The latter would allow $7,362,528 in annual education taxes instead of the present $6,361,219.

Citizens backing the two school proposals say both are essential to assure continuation of the district and its instructional programs.

In the Granite City Park District's 11-cent tax rate proposal, the public will decide whether to issue $1,200,000 in bonds to construct a new swimming pool in Wilson Park. The present pool is deteriorating and has become costly to operate, park officials assert.

PRES. RONALD REAGAN, 73, of California, the Republican incumbent, is being challenged for the presidency by Walter F. Mondale, 56, a Minnesota Democrat who was vice president in 1977-80 after serving in the U.S. Senate.

Polls indicate Mr. Reagan, a former governor, and Vice President George Bush are likely to defeat Mr. Mondale and Cong. Geraldine Ferraro in Illinois and the nation. But Mondale backers, including AFL-CIO unions, foresee an upset, aided by an extensive drive to register new voters this year.

Much closer is the U.S. Senate race between three-term Sen. Charles H. Percy (R), 65, Wilmette, and Paul Simon (D), 55, Makanda, who is leaving Congress after 10 years to compete for a Senate seat.

Simon, 1968-72 Illinois lieutenant governor, formerly represented the local area in the state legislature and was editor of the Troy Tribune newspaper.

CONGRESSMAN SINCE being first elected in 1944, Melvin Price (D), 79, East St. Louis, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, again is opposed by Robert Gaffner (R), 52, Greenville, his 1982 foe.

There is no Illinois Senate race on the local ballot this year, but State Representative Sam Wolf (D), 64, Granite City, is seeking his fifth two-year term. He is unopposed.

Also unopposed tomorrow is Madison County Circuit Court Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell (D), 66, Collinsville, a former Granite Cityan.

Urge 2 school 'Yes' votes to avoid busing pupils elsewhere

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

With Granite City school tax and bond proposals on tomorrow's ballot, the campaign for two "yes" votes was reviewed in detail at a gathering of citizens Thursday night.

Busing of students between Granite City and other communities was described as inevitable if the proposals fail and District Nine is dissolved. The $7.6 million debt is so burdensome that survival of the school system is uncertain, speakers and members of the audience said.

ENDING OF SCHOOL activity programs—including sports, other extracurricular offerings, gifted instruction and the current emphasis on computers—was pictured as looming immediately ahead.

Another possibility mentioned was an early shutdown of the 1984-85 school term.

The bleak outlook is not inevitable, many of the 66 present in the high school auditorium said. Granite Cityans can and should rally behind their schools—by casting two "yes" votes to avoid property value declines and to "keep the schools local and our community strong," it was asserted.

Leo Konzen was moderator and the need for an infusion of funds was outlined by Mack G. Johnson, chairman of Citizens for Continued Education. Sponsors of the public meeting were CCE, Granite City High School Boosters and the Granite City Citizens Forum.

ALL SEVEN BOARD members attended along with Supt. Frank L. Kraus, school employees and the general public, including many parents of students.

Johnson cited 177 percent inflation since the last education fund rate increase 15 years ago. He said the school needs that have developed in the last several years were discussed during October with dozens of organizations.

Our plea: support our schools

Granite City area residents are asked to dig into their pockets tomorrow for the good of the community.

The Press-Record encourages voters to approve both the bond issue and the tax rate referendum for the Granite City public schools and to vote for the bond issue to construct a new swimming pool in Wilson Park.

We support the school proposals because we believe the funds are essential for continuation of quality education in our community—and quality education is essential to the growth and prosperity of Granite City in the future.

Countering those who say the school issues will be used to give raises to teachers, we repeat, that is NOT true. The school board has clearly committed the funds to retirement of debt and balancing the educational fund budget, and has barred itself by resolution from using the funds for teacher raises. The teachers also have gone on record as saying they will not attempt to dig in to such funds for raises.

If the school issues fail, the district will be unable to continue to operate without extensive cutbacks—sports and extracurricular activities may have to be eliminated—and even more drastic consequences could soon follow, including loss of local control of school policies and costs.

Also, more than $800,000 a year in taxpayers' money will have to be used to pay the interest on short-term loans instead of being used to educate children.

Yes, the school referendums are expensive. The two 40-cent per $100 assessed valuation referendums will cost the average homeowner $100. The question is whether our children are worth it. We think they are.

Many communities, realizing the value of a good educational system, already have voted to pay higher taxes; many other districts will vote tomorrow. Failure to vote "Yes" (199) and "Yes" (223) here is likely to lead to an erosion of the tax base and deterioration of property values, making the community less attractive for new businesses and industry.

Even at the higher tax rate, most of us will never pay enough

It's an important election

Bad leaders are picked by good citizens who don't vote. There is wisdom in those words.

The Press-Record encourages all registered voters to exercise their rights by voting in Tuesday's general election. There are important issues before the voters and a large turnout is being predicted.

In our minds, probably the most important thing on the ballot in the Granite City School District are two 4-cent referendums to help put the school district out of debt and to keep it operating with a balanced budget. An editorial on these issues appears on today's front page.

Other important questions include a decision whether to issue bonds for a new swimming pool in Wilson Park.

Voters will pick their leaders in numerous race, capped by the choice for president of the United States. For the U.S. Senate, a handful of votes could decide whether Sen. Charles Percy (R) will keep his seat against a challenge from U.S. Rep. Paul Simon (D).

The veteran U.S. Rep. Melvin Price (D) is asking voters to retain him for another two years despite a respectable campaign by Robert Gaffner (R), who believes it is time for new leadership in that office.

On the county level, Republicans have put up good candidates who can offer serious challenges to Democratic incumbents for recorder of deeds, county auditor and coroner. On the reverse side, Democrat Dick Allen of Granite City is expected to attract a strong vote as he attempts to unseat the Republican state's attorney, Don Weber.

All in all, this election is probably one of the most important in decades for deciding our leadership and the future of our schools, parks, county and nation. We encourage everyone to take a few minutes Tuesday and vote.

Pool manager says a new pool is needed

To the Editor:

I have been reading the Press-Record religiously for the past five months. I have read people's opinions for and against the proposed bond issue to build a new swimming pool. The sad situation is many people express their opinions without knowing totally the whole status of the existing pool.

I have been manager of Wilson Park Pool for the past two seasons.

It is my opinion that Granite City is in need of a new swimming pool for many reasons.

The pool, concrete in the bathhouses and outside bathrooms is literally rotten. The existing plumbing is so old, toilets shoot water, showers continuously leak, pipes are clogged and many pipes have to be replaced at the beginning of each season.

The current light fixtures in some instances are nearly new, however, the wiring system for outlets, lights and circuits and fuses are often blown.

The pump and the entire filtering system need to be replaced. By the end of this summer the already deteriorating pump had loose bearings and had water shooting from the gaskets.

Vote 'yes' for ourselves and our children

To the Editor:

I have been a resident of the City of Granite City for all of my 39 years. My father, Randall Robertson, has been a lifetime resident and my grandfather, R. E. "Mickey" Robertson, was mayor and alderman during his lifetime here.

My father has been involved in the life of this community since at least 1941. This historic involvement with our city gives me a somewhat unique overview of the history of our community.

I believe that this history provides us with two valuable lessons which can be readily applied to the decision we must make regarding the pool, whether or not to approve the school and park district tax and bond proposals.

In 1948, the vital issue before this community was whether or not to annex the Village of Nameeki to Granite City. There was strong opposition to this proposal.

Many people within the city argued that taxes were too high and they had already paid for all of their municipal improvements and had no desire whatsoever to pay for or furnish similar improvements to the areas designated for annexation. In close elections, the annexation was approved by the residents of Granite City and the then Village of Nameeki.

Can anyone seriously argue now that this annexation was not crucial to the viability of our community?

The decision made by the voters of this community almost 36 years ago continues to provide benefits which are visible to anyone with the eyes to see them.

In the early 1960s, another important decision was placed before the voters of our community. The federal government was offering to pay half the cost of separating the stormwater sewer system from the sanitary sewer system of our city.

One-half of the cost of that system was to be provided by our local government and financed by means of a bond issue. Again, there was strong opposition to approval.

Arguments were made that taxes were too high, that the city fathers had wasted money, that many citizens in the older parts of our community had already paid for their sewers and saw no need to pay for construction of sewers in other areas of our city.

These arguments were quite similar in philosophy to the arguments that were made against the pool itself when full might seem that nothing is wrong. On the contrary. Portions of the continuously eroding walls could fall into the pool.

One gentleman states that the pool leaks more water by epoxy caulk. The pool was recaulked at the beginning of the summer.

Statements have been made regarding the replacement of all the pipes that now exist at the present pool. This is utterly ridiculous due to the labor involved, cost of pipes, nearly the entire pool, bathhouses and walls would have to be torn apart then redone again. This will cost thousands of dollars.

Comments have been made that more lockers are not needed due to declining patronage at the pool. The locker situation has been bad for some time and new lockers are needed.

Some citizens feel that a larger deck area is not needed. I disagree. If one has ever been to the pool on an average July day, he or she knows there needs to be more room.

The list of worst-case aspects of Wilson Park Pool goes on and on. I feel a new pool is not only needed in Granite City, but essential for Granite City to gain respect from other cities in this area that she deserves.

I urge all to vote Yes for the pool bond issue on Nov. 6.

SOCIETY BETTER BECAUSE REAGAN CUT REGULATIONS

To the Editor:

When President Reagan took office, federal regulations cost Americans more than $100 billion a year. A typical family paid $1,800 more a year for goods and services because of excessive regulations.

President Reagan ordered an end to needless regulations and paperwork, trimming the size of the Federal Register by 25 percent and saving 300 billion hours of paperwork annually.

During the 1980s, these changes will save Americans more than $150 billion, lowering consumer prices and increasing worker productivity.

JOSEPH P. MARTI

their fair share. Their children are educated. They no longer use the recreational facilities furnished by the Park and see no need to provide additional funds to make those facilities available to those who come after them.

These arguments and their acceptance by a majority of voters are what led to the local flooding of our streets and the numerous sewer breaks.

We continue to pay in dollars and cents for the mistake our community made in accepting those arguments.

On the other hand, we can reject those arguments, as the citizens of our community did 26 years ago. Long-term benefits to our community are more important than the short-term personal financial savings that might result from the defeat of these proposals.

The defeat of these proposals will not extinguish the School District debt. It will grow larger and we will continue to pay through our taxes the hundreds of thousands of dollars in interest associated with that debt.

Defeat of these proposals will not repair a 45-year-old swimming pool which will continue to require tens of thousands of our tax dollars for its maintenance.

We will continue to have these obligations regardless of the outcome of this election. And, like the sewers, they will continue to haunt us aesthetically and financially unless we vote "Yes" for Granite City, "Yes" for our future, "Yes" for our children and ourselves.

Re-elect UI Trustee Hahn

To the Editor:

The University of Illinois has a billion dollar budget, 58,000 students and 22,000 employees; if it were a business, it would be the third largest in Illinois.

Nine trustees govern this immense system, ranked in the top ten academically in the country. Three are to be elected Nov. 6.

While the candidates are generally unknown, I urge readers to consider the outstanding qualifications of Republican Ralph Crane Hahn of Springfield. Hahn has both his bachelor and master degrees in engineering from the UI, has been a trustee of the university since 1967, and has been president of his own engineering firm since 1961.

Presidential Election

Election Day is tomorrow, Tuesday, Nov. 6. Democratic presidential candidate Walter Mondale is said to be trailing President Ronald Reagan by as much as 13 percentage points. In addition to trailing the president, Mondale is said to be cutting back on his commercials. Persons shopping at Crossroads Plaza Friday were asked if they saw Mondale's standing in the polls and his curtailed commercial advertisements as a sign of conceding the election. Their reactions follow:

Tom Best, Granite City

"I think he (Mondale) might as well throw in the towel because he was beat before he started. People aren't stupid. Some people fear Reagan will start a war, well let me tell you that every war that we've fought this century began when a Democrat was in the White House. And then they crucify (Ariz. Sen. Barry) Goldwater for saying what he thinks — conservatism. Mondale's riding a dead horse. We've got to stop all this liberalism."

Mary Brake, Granite City

"I really don't know if he's giving up. I don't think he's got as many rich people behind him as Reagan does. It's a guess, but I think Reagan will win, probably by as much as the polls say he will."

Helen Hoffman, Granite City

"No, I don't think that he (Mondale) is giving up the fight. He's a fighter he'll go to the end. If he was going to give up why would he still be campaigning? He's for the unions, he's for the second-class citizens, he's for the working people. Regardless of what the polls say I think he's going to come from behind and win."

Andrew Orsey, Granite City

"What do you mean give up? Mondale's going to win. This is Madison County — 100 percent Democrat. He's not going to give up. It's like a baseball game. Regardless of the score you keep battling to the end, the last out. No, Mondale's not giving up."

Links 4 Democratic presidents to wars

To the Editor:

The entire St. Louis metro area seems to be so bitterly Democratic, so the people must be proud of the record of their party, for the last 50 years. Let us remember that—

1. In 1940, with World War II in Europe, F.D.R. said his most famous words: "I hate war. Eleanor hates war. No American boy will fight on foreign soil."

Those words won't live in infamy, but they got him a landslide victory.

2. In July 1941, F.D.R. was warned that Japan was going to destroy Pearl Harbor. Dec. 7, 1941, ended his 10-year depression and the anti-war sentiment of the American people as well.

3. In 1947, Social Security was 10 years old. It's fund had 64 billion dollars in it. Why? Because no politician could touch it.

But H.S.T. and his Congress changed the law and put the 64 billion into the general fund.

4. We saved Europe twice at a very heavy price. And the taxpayers under H.S.T. spent $15 billion through the Marshall Plan to rebuild it once. Then came his war.

5. J.F.K. not only gave Cuba to Russia, but kept his word that the U.S. would help keep it Communist.

After 1,500 known executions, Castro declared Communism. And J.F.K. sat on his sofa. Sixty days later, Russia took over.

6. L.B.J. threw both hands in the air on TV during his war and said, "I don't know what to do."

I could go on, but this old ex-doggie is tired.

Nolan counters charges from committee

To the Editor:

A committee recently formed to oppose the pool bond issue has stated certain ideas which imply that the board has not acted in a proper manner.

The park board, in January of this year, hired a qualified professional engineer to study the pool, both for structural defects and safety. This was done to determine whether the pool should be opened and, if so, what work would have to be done to make it safe.

R. W. MacDermott, professional engineer of St. Louis, gave an analysis of minimum work needed and extensive work needed in a cost breakdown, which by the way did not include a stainless steel liner.

At this point, the board met with the Department of Public Health, which stated that if the park district were to begin to make major repairs on the pool it would be necessary for them to meet the standards set for pool operations. This would then require major renovating, not only the pool, but the bathhouse facility as well.

MacDermott worked up cost estimates for the board of the renovation of the existing pool to meet state standards and also a new pool. Due to a renovation costing 70 percent of what a new pool would cost, the board went to the public to determine what they would like to see. This was done through public hearings and an opinion poll which was run in the Press-Record and distributed at the July 4th festivities in Wilson Park. The public voiced a 3 to 1 preference for a new pool built. The park board then made the decision to propose a bond issue to pay for it.

Another point to be brought out is that the park district has utilized the epoxy caulking material that was mentioned. It would seal the joints but would not stand up to individuals literally pulling the material out of the joints. This year, close to $25,000 was spent just to get the pool in condition to open. Spending that money on the pool hurts other programs and other park areas.

In the last several years, the attendance at the pool has shown an increase, including the beginning of this summer. But due to plumbing problems that occurred during the second week of operations, which forced closing for a week, the attendance at a new pool would be far above the 1984 daily average of 280 and above the 1983 daily average.

Any resident wanting to see the hard facts first hand is welcome to come by the park office for a personal tour.

I would like to recognize the members of the swim committee, Gary Grandtler, Jim Donahue, Norma Macios and J. B. Lattimore and anyone else who has helped inform the public of this issue. These people know that the pool issue is an important one and one that needs every resident's support.

ALDERMAN SUPPORTS JUDGE'S RETENTION

To the Editor:

I would like to say a few short words about my friend, Bill Johnson, who is up for retention for judge of the circuit court.

I have known Bill for several years and I have always found him to be warm, friendly, compassionate and a professional. Qualities I believe are essential in the execution of his office.

I urge all my friends to consider Judge Bill Johnson when you are at the polls on Tuesday, Nov. 6.

Some forecasting a sweep

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Will President Ronald Reagan sweep all 50 states in capturing a second term tomorrow? It seems doubtful, if you were listening to his challenger, Walter Mondale, during the weekend. The latter says he will not only win a state, but a majority of the states.

A sweep could happen, some pollsters say, while conceding the District of Columbia to Democrat Mondale.

The closest the U.S. ever came to a presidential sweep was in 1972, when Pres. Richard Nixon gained re-election by winning everywhere except in Washington, D.C., and the state of Massachusetts.

Even Massachusetts seems to be leaning toward Republican Reagan this time, but most projections note that last-minute changes of mind easily could lead to several states voting for the Mondale-Ferraro ticket.

But an outright, upset victory for the Democrats is now being described as highly unlikely. The GOP ticket, in fact, is said to have been gaining ground in recent days, including in Illinois.

Former Vice President Mondale "knows what can result from dogged determination, however. He displayed at some of his weekend campaign stops the erroneous 'Dewey defeats Truman' early-edition Chicago Tribune headline of 1948.

Geraldine Ferraro, first woman vice presidential nominee of a major party, said Saturday that Mondale and Ferraro are "two percentage points behind in Illinois" and catching up fast.

The U.S. senatorial race between Democrat Paul Simon and Republican Charles Percy has been one of the bitterest in memory, each painting the other as a reckless, almost vile, legislator.

Pres. Reagan jumped into the Senate battle in an appearance Friday at Springfield, saying:

"I'm running against an opponent who wants to raise your taxes, and so is Chuck running against that kind of opponent. The difference is, while Mr. Mondale wants to hike your taxes, it seems that Mr. Simon wants to raise them even more than Mr. Mondale does."

The nation's 40th president spoke early Sunday afternoon beneath the Gateway Arch, accompanied by comedian Bob Hope.

Candidate Mondale addressed several thousand persons at St. Clair Square, Fairview Heights, late Saturday afternoon, again contending that the incumbent has a secret plan to increase taxes.

Whether or not Cong. Simon wins a Senate post, he has had a star-studded campaign, appearing jointly with Hollywood celebrities like Margot Kidder and Mike Farrell.

Simon also has shared the stage with his party's national candidates, plus Chicago Mayor Harold Washington and former Chicago Mayor Jane Byrne. Washington is working hard to roll up a big vote total for Simon.

Paul Simon, candidate, even campaigned with Paul Simon, singer and composer, who is married to Carrie Fisher, daughter of Hollywood's Debbie Reynolds. The tiny guitarist looked up to "tall Paul," a 5-8 candidate.

Monroe Flinn, once a longtime Granite City Steel employee, is still winning Illinois House terms with regularity.

Running in the 114th Representative District, Flinn, a Democrat, will advance to the top eight in House seniority. He chairs both the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules and the Financial Institutions Committee.

Secret Service protection of major candidates seems to have lightened further in the wake of the slaying of Indira Gandhi, prime minister of India.

The Committee for the Study of the American Electorate expects 55 percent of the 127 million registered U.S. voters to cast ballots Tuesday. Some Illinoisans say that 70 or 80 percent may vote in this state.

It's National Card and Letter-Writing Week

"Remember how good it feels to receive a letter from a loved one or friend? There's no better time to share that joy than during National Card and Letter-Writing Week, which begins today," according to Granite City Postmaster Jack D. Wilkins. The theme of this week's observance is "Lift spirits—Write."

Letters have played a vital role in the history of our nation and so has the Postal Service, the agent for this communications link," Wilkins said. "No aspect of the mail is more important than the exchange of sentiment, ideas and friendship among individuals and families."

A highlight of National Card and Letter-Writing Week is the "Volunteer Scribe" program. It encourages students and other concerned citizens to write and address letters for those who cannot do it themselves, such as invalids and the elderly.

Co-sponsors of this year's National Card and Letter-Writing Week include the National Council of Teachers of English, the National Association of Elementary School Principals, the National Association of Secondary School Principals, the National Art Education Association, the American Library Association, the American Family Society, the Greeting Card Association, the Writing Instrument Manufacturers Association and the Envelope Manufacturers Association.

New police officer hired in Pontoon

The Pontoon Beach Village Board hired a seventh police officer during a special meeting Saturday.

According to Village Clerk Mary Warren, the new officer is Thomas W. Watts from Caseyville, where he served as a police officer. He plans to make his home in Pontoon Beach.

Watts began his duties in Pontoon Beach Saturday night. He is being paid a beginning patrolman's salary, or $291 per week.

Mrs. Warren said Watts was hired because of a shortage of officers in the Pontoon Beach Police Department.

6 reasons cited for 2 school 'yes' votes

Granite City Citizens for Continued Education today outlined "six reasons to cast two Yes votes" in tomorrow's election on school bonds and the education tax rate limit in District Nine.

- The group said the six points are:
1. "Granite City schools are among the best in this region. Fifty percent of the students attend college. Our students score above the national average on scholastic aptitude tests, and our schools have had many National Merit scholars."
 2. "Local schools are carrying a $7.6 million debt. This debt and possible bankruptcy put Granite City schools in danger of being dissolved by the state and merged with nearby school districts where the quality of education may not be as easily controlled."
 3. "If Granite City schools close, the value of residential property will plummet. Realtors and bankers agree that good schools keep value up and bad schools drive value down.

4. "If our schools are dissolved, we can be sure that jobs and industry will never relocate in Granite City. Businesses do not move to a place with poor schools because, if they did, it would be too difficult for them to recruit well-educated employees."

5. "Granite City schools have not had an education tax rate increase since 1969. In that time, inflation has risen 177 percent, federal revenue for the schools here has shrunk, and the Granite City tax base has been squeezed by loss of industry and by high unemployment."

6. "Funds from these two ballot proposals will go strictly toward retiring debt and allowing the district to operate 'in the black.' The new money will not go toward salary increases for teachers, administrators or anyone else."

THE PUMPKIN PATCH presented annually by Junior Achievement in Granite City companies Buzco IV, Royal Enterprises II and Woodworkers Unlimited, sponsored by Illinois Bell, was well attended again this year. Snoopy, Papa Smurf, Garfield and Care Bear were among the special guests who greeted visitors too young for traditional haunted houses.

Madison hires asst. cage coach

By DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

The Madison Board of Education Thursday night agreed to hire Leon Thomas, former coach for Lovejoy School, as an assistant high school varsity basketball coach.

Superintendent of Schools John Pacheff requested board approval during the meeting adding, "The basketball team has started practice sessions and I would like to see the new coach begin with the team as soon as possible."

WADE JAMES, assistant superintendent of schools, announced that Thomas also is a registered basketball official of Illinois and Missouri.

Resignations were accepted with regrets from Warren Smith, who will leave his position as custodian effective Nov. 1, and from Sophie Leleniewski, head cook at Harris Elementary School. Her last day of employment will be Dec. 21.

Board members agreed to refer the information to the personnel committee, which will recommend new employees for the positions vacated, at the next board session.

THREE BIDS for a new freezer needed at the high school cafeteria were opened with the price range from $2,402 to $2,685. Board members decided to hold all bids for further study on size that will best fit the needs at the school.

In conjunction with federal and special education programs, James informed the board they received funds from Chapter I and requested, and was granted, permission from the board to apply for more monies through reallocation funds that is a carryover after the initial distribution.

THE ASSISTANT superintendent informed the board members he has secured several bids for a school bus but is waiting for another one and will at that time present all to the board for consideration.

The next meeting, originally set for Nov. 15, has been changed to Monday, Nov. 12, to be preceded by a public hearing at 6:30 p.m. to comply with Truth in Taxation Act.

Also, during the business session, bills totaling $21,570 in the educational fund and $951 in the building fund were approved to be paid.

THE ALLEN CAMPAIGN: "NEGATIVE, CONFUSED, BEFUDDLED, STUMBLING"

Alton Telegraph:

"Dick Allen, is not noted for his aggressiveness or administrative ability."

Collinsville Herald:

"Weber's opponent bears the stigma of being too closely associated with those who have gone to questionable lengths to get Weber out of office. Weber's opponent has also hurt himself by a campaign that has stumbled on the issues and has failed to show constructive steps that he would take to improve the State's Attorney's office."

Edwardsville Intelligencer

"Allen's campaign has been confused and confusing . . . Allen has at times appeared downright befuddled in some of his public appearances and statements."

Important Issues

seeking his seventh four-year term. STATE'S ATTORNEY Don Weber (R), 35, who resides near Carpenter and Hamel, is vying for a second four-year term, citing the county's progress in reducing crime. Richard Allen (D), 58, Granite City, is waging an active campaign for the office.

Spirited campaigning also has developed for other countywide offices.

Opponents are: Coroner (Mrs.) Dallas Burke (D), 57, Alton, the three-term incumbent, vs. Dr. Edward Braud (R), 32, Godfrey; Auditor Arthur "Pete" Fields (D), 38, Glen Carbon, vs. Michael McNamee (R), 43, Alton; and Recorder of Deeds Ronald "Rink" Lucas (D), 45, Maryville mayor, vs. Robert Saksa (R), 57, Godfrey.

COUNTY REPUBLICANS are encouraging "no" votes on Circuit Judge William E. Johnson, 53, Glen Carbon, who is running for retention without ballot opposition, as an incumbent judge. His backers say the negative campaign is inappropriate even though there are no Republican circuit or associate judges at present.

A longtime Democrat, Judge Johnson needs 60 percent support to be retained for another six-year term on Madison County's Third Judicial Circuit bench. A hard worker, he notes that he has conducted more than 1,400 trials. His foes say too many of them are being reversed.

Repeat 10-year terms as Fifth District appellate judges are sought tomorrow by Charles E. Jones, 59, McLeansboro, and John M. Kams Jr., 56, Belleville. They originally ran as Democrats.

COUNTY BOARD MEMBERS seeking re-election include Herbert "Junior" Milton (D), 53, Granite City, in District 22 and Frank Dutko (D), 57, Madison, in District 24. Tom Nash, 32, Granite City, is waging a write-in campaign with Republican backing in District 22.

Roderick Bauder, Venice, the current District 23 county board member, lost in the March 1984 Democratic primary to Donald Garrett, 49, a member of the Madison Board of Education and Madison City Council. Garrett is opposed in the general election by John F. Huber (R), 53, Granite City.

Along with the two school proposals and the park swimming pool plan, voters will decide whether to ask Congress to enact the Natural Gas Consumer Relief Act—in an effort to roll back home heating bills and limit future gas price hikes—and whether to give tax exemption to Illinois property that is used exclusively for veterans' organizations or patriotic purposes.

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS board of trustees nominees include three Democrats, Ann E. Smith, Paul Stone and Robert C. Hamilton, and three Republicans, Ralph Crane, Hahn, Park Livingston and Susan Loving Gravenhorst.

The statewide ballot also includes candidates of the Socialist Workers, Communist, Libertarian and Citizens parties for U.S. Senate and university positions, and those parties plus two independent groups in the U.S. presidential campaign:

lative for United Steel Workers of America, Burl Hand, president of Steelworkers Local 20; Arlyn E. Brase, president of Steelworkers Local 68; and Charles Hamilton, business agent for Chemical Workers Local 50.

Buddy Davis, director of District 34, United Steelworkers, spent a week in Japan with NKKKK officials in September preparing for the upcoming visit by the National Steel delegation. The six local officials will join others from other National plants and facilities for the 12-day trip.

THE GROUP will tour NKKKK's Fukuyama Steel Plant, the world's largest integrated steel mill, which has an annual capacity of 16 million tons. It also will tour the NKKKK Ogishima plant, which outputs six million tons a year. In addition, the American visitors will visit NKKKK's shipbuilding yards.

They plan to study how management-labor relationships work in the successful Japanese market, as well as to see first-hand how modern technology is used in Japan's industries. They also hope to exchange ideas with the Japanese on management styles.

Paulson, 41, joined National Steel at its Midwest Steel Division in Portage, Ind., in 1961 as a bargaining unit employee. He entered the labor relations area in 1972 and was transferred to Granite City Steel in 1983 as manager of labor relations. This September, he became director of human resources, overseeing labor relations, personnel, safety, security, training, public relations, legal affairs and employee benefits.

SANGSTER, 38, joined GC Steel's engineering department in 1970. He has worked in engineering, maintenance and operations and was superintendent of iron making before becoming director of operations this July.

Sangster is responsible for all manufacturing operations in the Granite City division and serves with Paulson on the company's Management Committee.

Kelahan, 60, has long been active in union affairs and served once as president of United Steelworkers Local 67. He has been employed by GC Steel since 1950, when he started as a laborer in the Cold Strip Mill.

BRASE, 55, was elected by the membership of the 143-member Local 68. He joined GC Steel in 1951 in maintenance in the utilities department and presently works as a construction specialist in the electric shop.

Hand, 47, is a full-time president of Local 30, which has 633 members. He started at GC Steel in 1955 as a laborer in the yard maintenance department. His last position in the plant was as a pipefitter in the pipe shop. He also is chairman of the joint committee of Steelworker locals, which includes four production locals and one guard local.

Hamilton, 56, is a full-time business agent for Chemical Workers Local 50, which has 793 employees at the coke ovens and blast furnaces. He was hired at the local plant in 1946 as a laborer in the yard maintenance department. His last position at the plant was as a heavy-duty equipment operator in the blast furnace department.

Officer shot to death at Cahokia Mounds State Park

A Fairmont City police officer was found shot to death near his patrol car at 6:52 a.m. Sunday in Cahokia Mounds State Park.

Patrolman Bryan Keeney, 32, had been shot in the forehead, according to Madison County Coroner Dallas Burke. Patrolman Keeney's body was found lying on the ground next to his patrol car. The car's engine was running and the headlights were on, when his body was found.

A search had begun for Mr. Keeney three hours earlier, when he failed to return to the station at the end of his shift.

Cahokia Mounds State Park is about a half-mile east of the Fairmont City city limits, in an unincorporated section of St. Clair County.

Fairmont City police are investigating the reason why Deputy Keeney had left the city limits, as well as the motive for the slaying.

Details concerning the how many times Mr. Keeney was shot are not being released, it appears, however, that the deputy had not fired his revolver, nor had he been robbed previous to the shooting.

Deputy Keeney had been a patrolman with Fairmont City for the past three years. He has served with the East St. Louis Police Department for six years, before his Fairmont City employment.

He was one of only two patrolmen on the Fairmont City police force, with other officers consisting of two lieutenants, a chief and four part-time officers.

Deputy Keeney was the father of three children. He participated as a coach in youth sport teams.

AN OPEN LETTER TO MR. BRUCE LOCHER
(Weber's Special Prosecutor)

November 2, 1984

Dear Mr. Locher:

You charged Jim Barton for Official Misconduct for failure to file a timely financial disclosure statement. Now we find that Don Weber, who had you appointed, filed his financial disclosure statements late also. On the day the indictment was returned, you called yourself an Assistant State's Attorney, filed a civil proceeding to oust Jim Barton for failing to file. This case was heard and dismissed. You have appealed.

I find it peculiar that you were able to find that Mr. Barton filed his disclosure statement late, yet did not discover that Don also filed his late. I find it incredible that you did not discover that many of Don Weber's friends failed to file on time or at all. I find it interesting that you learned that Jim Barton had not filed a timely disclosure statement before you live in Springfield without Don Weber's help. And, most of all, since presumably you were aware that Don Weber had not filed on time you didn't have an action against him (or seek his removal). I find it morally reprehensible that you pursue Don Weber's vendetta against this man for the same "crime" with which Don Weber should have been charged.

If you earnestly believed that failing to file a timely financial disclosure statement was a crime, you would certainly have charged Don Weber who failed to file by the deadline. I think you, Mr. Locher, were not fair with our citizens. Those people relied on your advice that Jim Barton had committed a crime for filing late. Those people did not know Don Weber (and his friends) had filed late.

Sincerely,

Earl W. Tucker

DICK ALLEN
DEMOCRAT FOR STATE'S ATTORNEY

EXPERIENCED & QUALIFIED... Prosecutor under three different Administrations

RESPECTED & DEDICATED... Endorsed by Sheriff Emil Toffant

MY PROMISE: "I will restore professionalism and public confidence to the office."

THE REASON: The Real Record of Don Weber

- ★ ★ He fired his Chief Administrator for objecting to nepotism. He pays his wife a $22,600 salary.
- ★ ★ His chief felony prosecutor resigned rather than agree to manipulate the Grand Jury for political purposes.
- ★ ★ He fired a secretary for not paying a political lug.
- ★ ★ His behavior has been called "reprehensible" by the Appellate Court and has led to his own indictment by a Special Grand Jury.
- ★ ★ While he stays in the headlines, CASE AFTER CASE has quietly been lost because of the chaos in his office: dismissals for not complying with speedy trial laws, reversals for misconduct, and jury trial acquittals.

IT IS NOW TIME TO GET THIS VITAL OFFICE BACK ON THE RIGHT TRACK. WE WILL BE TOUGH, FAIR AND EFFICIENT!!

Dance, ice skating for senior citizens

The Granite City Park District is announcing a Veterans' Day dance for senior citizens on Friday, Nov. 9, and a new senior citizen program that will continue through the winter.

The dance is scheduled for 7 to 9 p.m. at the Harold Brown Recreation Center and is for senior citizens and all veterans who have served in the armed forces.

Also being announced is a free ice skating session for senior citizens. For one hour on Mondays through Fridays, senior citizens will be admitted free to the ice rink. The free skating will be from 10 to 11 a.m. The only cost to the seniors will be a 50-cent skate rental for those not having their own skates.

Also invited for the hour of skating are other adults who are not yet senior citizens. They will be charged a fee of 75 cents for skating session and the 50-cent fee for skate rental, if necessary.

For more information about the skating program, interested persons may contact the ice rink manager at 877-2549.

State budget has regained strength

Budget Director Robert Mandeville said Thursday Illinois' financial plan for fiscal 1985 has kept the state's budget balanced and in a strong position for the rest of the year.

"Our plan is on track," Mandeville said. "While we have seen a higher than anticipated spending level to pay income tax refunds during the first quarter, higher tax revenues have offset those expenditures."

The general fund's available balance at the end of the quarter was $384 million.

Due to both earlier-than-expected spending and increased liability, state spending for July-September was $2,293,000 or $105 million higher than estimated.

"We have regained our budget strength following a long recession, in large part because we were able to retire our obligations in the previous fiscal year," Mandeville said.

"Even with the elimination of the temporary income tax, we still have a budget that is sound and balanced."

100 SEEK STATE POSITION

The State Board of Education has begun the process of reviewing applications for state superintendent of education. More than 100 applications for the job have been received. A panel of nationally known educators and business leaders will recommend those who best meet the board's criteria.

TO DON WEBER, REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR STATE'S ATTORNEY OF MADISON COUNTY

The Supervisor of Assessments of Madison County was indicted by a Grand Jury of Madison County for failure to file an economic interest statement as required by law. At the same time, a suit was filed to oust Barton from office for this reason.

Now it comes out that you, yourself, have failed to file an economic interest statement on time but you have not been indicted nor has anyone sought to remove you from office.

GC leaders explaining hospice here, nationally

November has been designated as National Hospice Month by the U.S. Congress and the National Hospice Organization. During this period it is the intention of Hospice of Madison County, which is affiliated with St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City, to make the public more aware of the hospice program, its services and its philosophies, a spokesman said today.

"The purpose of hospice is to provide support and care for persons in the last phases of an incurable disease so that they can live as fully and comfortably as possible."

"Hospice affirms life and regards dying as a normal process. Hospice neither hastens nor postpones death. It is believed that through personalized services and a caring community, patients and families can prepare themselves for remaining life," the spokesman related.

"Hospice of Madison County, although relatively young, is one of the older programs in this area. The concept behind the hospice movement began in 1957 when Dame Cicely Saunders opened St. Christopher's Hospice in London, England."

"The first hospice in America began in 1974 in New Haven, Conn. A comprehensive national survey by the National Hospice Organization in 1984 identified more than 1,200 hospice programs in the U.S."

"Hospice of Madison County carries on this effort of care for the terminally ill. Its services are directed from offices at 2100 Madison Ave., Granite City."

"Hospice of Madison County serves patients and families countywide, including such communities as Edwardsville, Granite City, Collinsville and Troy, but is not limited to these."

"Besides the professional staff of registered nurses, social workers and a medical director, volunteers aid in such diverse areas as helping families cope with loss, aiding in housework, plus office duties and fund-raising activities."

"Volunteers go through an extensive screening and training program before they are assigned a family to work with. Many of the volunteers find that skills they acquire in their hospice work have helped them in many areas of their own lives."

As part of National Hospice Month, the National Hospice Organization will hold its national conference Nov. 11-14 in Hartford, Conn. At this gathering, several Hospice of Madison County members will present educational workshops for attendees.

Multiplier would lower tax rate for a new park pool

George Sykes, president of the Granite City Park District, issued a statement Friday disagreeing with a Forum letter in Thursday's Press-Record which contended that the effect of a multiplier on property taxes will increase the tax rate people will pay for a new swimming pool.

"It is not true," Sykes told the Press-Record. He noted that the park district will have to pay about $200,000 a year on the bonds and that will cost will be evenly distributed among the taxable properties in the district whether or not there is a multiplier.

He noted that if a multiplier is added to the assessments, that will increase the assessed valuation of the park district and allow the tax rate for the new park swimming pool to decline. "The tax rate will decrease if there is a multiplier, not increase," Sykes said.

He said the park estimate that the tax rate will be 11-cents per $100 assessed valuation is based upon an assessed valuation in the district of $181,656,919 and selling the bonds at 10 percent. If the assessed valuation of the district increases or the interest rate on the bonds is less than 10 percent, the tax rate will be lower, he noted.

The Forum writer contended that a 10 percent multiplier would increase the tax rate for the schools from 11 cents to 12.1 cents.

Committee concerned about poll conduct

The Madison County Chapter of the Committee for Honest Elections is calling for federal marshalls and personnel from the attorney general and the State Board of Elections to monitor the precincts of: Nameoki 2, 3, 8 and 9; Venice 18, 23 and 24; Granite City 1 through 5, 10, 13, 15, 25, 36 and 37; Alton 18, 23 and 24; Godfrey 2; and Wood River 2.

The committee has contacted each of these agencies expressing its concern over the reports of voting irregularities in past elections from those precincts. Complaints have been made that campaigning occurred too near the polling places and that individuals were going into voting booths with voters who had not formally requested assistance.

"Poll judges reported they were unable to enforce compliance with state election laws in the past, and the Committee for Honest Elections believes the only method by which a free election can be guaranteed is to have persons who can enforce the law present to prevent further abuse," a spokesman said.

Persons observing irregularities in voting may call Frederick Hess, U.S. Attorney at 274-2200, extension 360; the Madison County state's attorney's office at 1-682-6200, or the FBI in Alton, 1-463-3603.

GRANITE CITY STEEL... ONE OF THE AREA'S HIGH-TECH CENTERS

If asked, many people would not relate steelmaking to high technology. They might even discount the role of steelmaking and its contribution to a viable economy.

At Granite City Steel, we are proving that there is a case to be made for basic industries in today's economy.

We are one of this country's oldest, yet most modern integrated steel mills. As a part of National Steel Corporation, one of this country's leading steel producers, we are committed to becoming the No. 1 producer of high quality, low-cost steel for use in the automotive, construction and appliance industries. A key to our success in this effort will be our extensive ongoing modernization program.

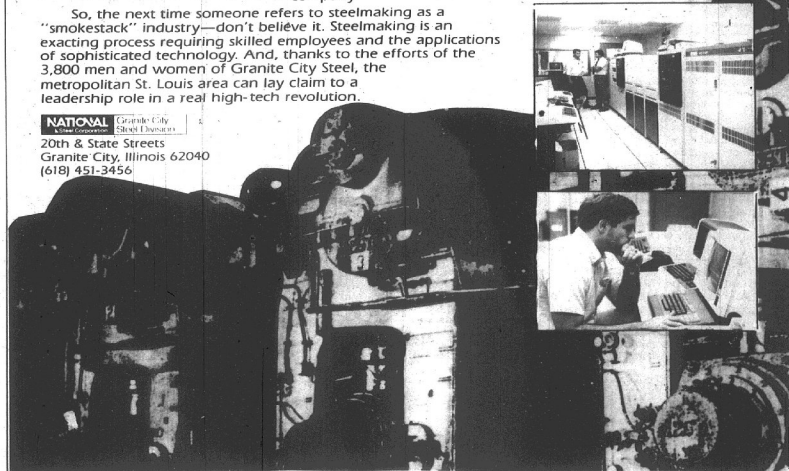

Throughout our operations, applications of high-technology are found, ranging from our computer-controlled continuous caster to a yet-to-be completed multi-million dollar computer at our hot strip mill.

Now Granite City Steel and National Steel are entering a new era. In August 1984, Nippon Kokan, K.K., one of Japan's leading steel producers, became a 50 percent owner of National Steel in a joint venture with National Intergrupp.

This venture is the largest of its kind in the steel industry and is expected to bring advantages of process controls from Nippon Kokan that will spur our uses of technology and provide an emphasis that will enable us to become a world-class steel company.

So, the next time someone refers to steelmaking as a "smokestack" industry—don't believe it. Steelmaking is an exacting process requiring skilled employees and the applications of sophisticated technology. And, thanks to the efforts of the 3,800 men and women of Granite City Steel, the metropolitan St. Louis area can lay claim to a leadership role in a real high-tech revolution.

dary surgery failed to alleviate the condition, and one year later the man was a mental incompetent.

The Court upheld an avoidance of the release and a subsequent money judgment of over $40,000. The Court noted that release should be vacated where there is a mutual mistake as to the nature and extent of a person's injuries. In this case, the man's injuries appeared to have healed, and the treating physicians saw nothing to suggest the blood clot which later developed on the brain. The Court also emphasized that only $900 had been paid originally, which appeared to further indicate that the parties were ignorant of the extent of the injury. The Court noted that $900 failed to even cover the original property damage and medical bills incurred during the injured man's apparent convalescence. In light of this decision, can the man who fell in the grocery store avoid the release? There certainly appears to be a mutual mistake as to the nature and extent of his injuries, similar to the previous case which was discussed. This, when coupled with the man's inability to understand English, would seem to be enough to reopen the case.

GC unemployment drops to 11.9 percent

Unemployment in Granite City declined from 13.1 percent in July to 11.9 percent in the preliminary August figures released this week by the Bureau of Employment Security.

A reduction in the workforce (the total employed and unemployed) aided the drop in the unemployment rate, but the number of persons on unemployment decreased by 300 in the city from July to August, the figures show. The workforce dropped from 20,200 to 19,700 and the number actively employed dropped from 17,575 in July to 17,350 in August. That reduced the number on unemployment from 2,650 to 2,350.

In Madison, St. Clair, Monroe, Bond, Calhoun and Jersey Counties, the unemployment rate remained at 9.6 percent in August, the same as in July. According to Velda Gersteneker, supervisor of the research and analysis division, "The rate of unemployment (in the seven-county region) was unchanged as short-term seasonal workers withdrew in conjunction with a moderate continuation of the downturn in the number of idle workers."

All major cities in the region showed declines in unemployment during August from the previous month. Belleville remained the highest with 12.5 percent in August (down from 12.9 percent in July). Granite City followed at 11.9 percent, followed by East St. Louis at 11.4 percent (down from 11.5 percent) and Alton at 10.8 percent (an improvement from 11.2 percent).

The county with the highest unemployment in the county remained Calhoun County with 16.4 percent unemployment in August, up from 16.2 percent in July. It was followed by Jersey County with 11.9 percent. Bond County at 10.5 percent, Madison County at 9.7 percent, Clinton at 9.6 percent and Monroe and St. Clair counties with 9.5 percent unemployment each.

The seven-county region is only one percent higher in unemployment than the state average of 8.4 percent in August, unchanged from July's final figures. Statewide, of a workforce of 5,558,000, a total of 477,000 are receiving unemployment benefits.

In Madison County, the workforce dropped from 101,050 persons in July to 122,325 in August and the number unemployed dropped from 12,825 to 12,225, the report shows.

After allegedly aggravating an employee at Pantara's Pizzeria, at 1:10 a.m. Saturday, a male customer left and the boyfriend of the girl followed him to the parking lot and asked if he had a problem with the service. The man, described as about 20 years old, entered his car and reached into the glove compartment and brought out a gun, waving it in front of the boyfriend.

The friend of the employee, who was waiting until she finished her work shift, returned to the pizza place and called the police. They checked the license plate of the customer, finding the vehicle belonged to a Belleville. The automobile was later reported parked unattended in Swansea at 2 a.m. Saturday.

THE LAW AND YOU
BY RICK REED

Recently a man came to this office several months after he fell on a wet floor in a grocery store. The man spoke very little English, and a representative of the store convinced him to sign a release in exchange for $1200. After later consulting with a doctor, the injured party learned that he had a possible herniated disc in his back which could require surgery. Can he avoid the release and reopen the claim?

To answer this question, one must first understand the nature of a release under Illinois law. A release is actually a contract between the parties. In the normal situation, one party will give up his right to further pursue the claim in exchange for the payment of money. One way to set aside his document is for the injured party to show a mutual mistake by the parties with regard to the nature of the injuries.

In one 1960 case, a man was injured in an automobile accident. His injuries were cuts and bruises accompanied by mild headaches. After an apparent complete recovery, which took about three months, the injured party signed a release in exchange for $900. Three months later he required brain surgery to remove a blood clot. Subsequent treatment and second-others have taken a stand favoring the school proposals. It was noted. He said Granite City schools are outstanding and play an essential role in the entire community's well-being.

Johnson told of going to Springfield and learning that the district will get no "financial bailout from the state government. If they bailed us out, they would have to do the same for everyone else, and they're not going to do that."

"THE SCHOOLS HAVE given a good return on your investment," Johnson told the audience in noting that annual per-pupil spending is $2,700 here and $2,900 statewide.

He concluded, "My children go to Maryville School. I don't want to see them bused 15 or 20 miles to Edwardsville or Collinsville when they live three blocks from their school."

Lee Thomas of the Citizens Forum was the first to go to one of the microphones in the auditorium and call for passage of the school proposals—a working cash fund bond issue and a higher education rate limit. He urged people to "take pride in our children and our community."

Boyd Presley of the Boosters asked for background information and School Board Pres. David Partney replied that the district achieved a break-even year in 1983-84 but has seen its expected 1984-85 income dwindle by $1 million due to state aid and district assessment decreases.

LESS IS SPENT each year by Granite City schools than Alton schools even though the local district has 1,400 more pupils than Alton, Partney said.

Mrs. Tommie Hopke voiced a question and Johnson said that in merged districts, extensive bus routes are set up to equalize building enrollments.

He told of visiting the State Board of Education, where Illinois statutes were interpreted as requiring the district to be cut apart if it fails to operate schools and meet basic requirements.

A YEAR'S PROBATION period could be shortened in the event of a shutdown, and the state then could decide about District Nine's future without citizens having a voice, Johnson added.

Thomas Boker said, "My heart tells me to vote for this, but my pocketbook is being hit with a triple whammy. The schools want to raise my taxes, the park board wants to raise my taxes, and a presidential candidate wants to raise my taxes."

Board Member Dewey Melton said debt was $7.1 million in June and is rising by another $500,000 in the year ending next June; the $6.6 million maximum available from bonds would be utilized along with $1 million from the education rate change to meet this short-term debt.

TIMING OF DECISIONS, forced by state laws, locked Granite City into two-year pay hikes, 10 percent and then another 9.25 percent, immediately before unpredictable aid cutbacks occurred; the cuts increased local borrowing by several million dollars, Melton said.

Graphs that were shown on a screen by an overhead projector explained the rapid deterioration in the district's financial status in 1982 and 1983. He traced the buildup of fiscal pressure since 1977 and noted two series of school closings in 1979 and 1983, the latter trimming $5 million from each year's operating costs.

Eighty-five percent of the budget goes to staff salaries and benefits, Melton pointed out.

Also answering citizens' queries was School Finance Director Norman Owca.

A MEMBER SINCE 1960, Monroe Worthen of the school board recalled rapid population growth that was adding 600 students annually, prompting the district not only to build new schools but rent space in many other buildings.

Class size was large and it was only in recent years that it could be reduced to optimum levels for effective instruction, Worthen said.

There has been a new upsurge in average class size but this cycle, too, can be reversed in the next several years, he predicted.

Worthen praised Granite City as an unselfish and keenly interested in providing schools that prepare young people for their future lives. He cited the $5 million cost reduction as only one of many examples of the district's efforts to maintain quality education at reasonable cost.

GEORGE WIDEL told of backing Granite City school bond issues starting 37 years ago. He urged a positive public response; past proposals also seemed difficult to afford but later proved to have been wise, he commented.

A question and answer session brought out that Collinsville school voters will be deciding on a 75-cent tax rate boost per $100 assessment tomorrow while Granite Cityans are considering two 40-cent increases.

Pres. Partney said the board has the backbone to avoid spending any funds that might prove to be unnecessary.

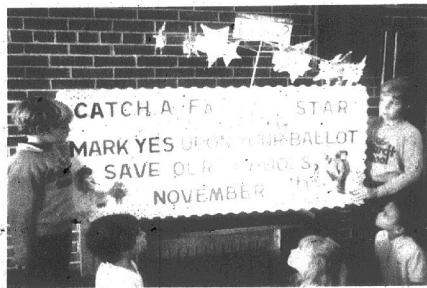

JAMES PARKER said Granite City schools equipped him and others for success in life. "I have never felt ill at ease in competing intellectually across the country, or short-changed by the education I received," he told the audience.

Parker voiced gratitude to the school district and the board, noting that more is demanded of board members during problem times than "when things are going well. I fully support the school proposals, and I'm not asking for any guarantees."

Eric Robertson said that while Tuesday's issues are related to maintaining present school services and ending short-term debt, he believes citizens also would be receptive to future efforts to upgrade and develop programs.

STATE AID HERE, Johnson said, has been adversely affected by enrollment decreases which contrasted with regional planners' estimates that the district would surpass 20,000 students in the 1990s; instead, enrollment peaked at 16,000 and has dropped to 9,000.

The campaign committee chairman said that Thursday night's turnout undoubtedly would have been larger had not so many citizens already had an opportunity this fall to learn school facts.

Shotgun holdup at tavern in GC

After drinking for three hours at the Wayside Tavern, 2160 Washington Ave., two men at 3 p.m. Sunday robbed two patrons and the proprietor, Faye Schneider, stole her 1981 auto, abandoned it at 20th and Iowa streets and escaped. There were no injuries.

A sawed-off, single-barrel shotgun was displayed by a man 5-0, weighing 200 pounds, age early 20s, while a chrome-plated revolver was held by a man 5-7 in height, 140 pounds, age late 20s. Both had dark, shoulder-length hair, blue eyes and pockmarked faces. The younger man had a moustache.

Mrs. Schneider and her customers, Neal Rappaport and Randy Dionea, were forced to lie on the floor of a back room as they were robbed of personal items, including her diamond ring and $100 from her jacket pocket.

The cash register was looted and her purse was stolen, containing $1,000. Missing from her auto are five coin bags holding about $150 and $4 that was in the passenger area console.

PENNIES TAKEN IN BURGLARY Zelma Finch, 2038 McCasland Ave., Madison, reported last week that someone broke into her home by pushing in a piece of plywood that had been tacked up in the door to replace a window.

Police reports indicate that 75 pennies are all that is known missing.

INTRUDERS RANSACK ROOM Madison police were called to the Charles T. Adams home, 1618 Second St., last week, after Adams' son, Ted, discovered that someone had forced their way through a door and into the house. Police reports state that the bedroom had been ransacked. A list of missing items is being compiled.

Warriors Win 7-0

Seniors rally to lead Warriors past Lancers

By JAMES BLASINGAME
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City High School football team closed out its season Friday night with a 7-0 victory over Belleville East. The Warriors ended the season with a 3-6 record.

It was senior night at Memorial Stadium. Before the opening kickoff, all of Granite City's senior griders, accompanied by a parent, were introduced to the crowd in the home field stands.

Senior recognition night is an evening that the griders always remember. For most, it means the last time they'll ever wear a football uniform — the last time to play beside teammates with whom they've spent four years sacrificing, suffering, and celebrating. It's an emotional night, win or lose.

OF COURSE, winning is a lot more fun, and that's just what the Warriors did.

The game ball goes to the Warrior defense. Protecting a seven-point lead for three quarters, the Granite City defense stopped Belleville East each time the Lancers threatened to score. The Warriors repeatedly stifled Belleville's drives by smothering Lancer ballcarriers or by forcing inopportune turnovers.

"We gave up a lot of yards, but we got great plays when we had them," said Granite City's defensive coordinator Bob Stegemeier.

"There was some hitting going on. Tim Moran just stuffed people on the line. They (Belleville East) had a couple of fumbles, and all three of our defensive backs got interceptions. They just happen, we forced those turnovers."

THE WARRIOR defense gave up 212 yards of total offense to the Lancers, but Granite City was the only team that got into the endzone.

With 2:59 left in the opening stanza, the Warriors fielded a Belleville East punt and took over at their own 40 yard line.

Pat Keeling pulled his way to the 44. Then quarterback Shane Cole fired a pass to split end Eric Graves on the right sideline for a first down at the Lancer 35.

Tight end Chris Reuter was Cole's next target, across the middle for a 13-yard gain to the Belleville East 24.

Carries by John Konovich and Keeling moved the Warriors to the 16-yard line as the quarter ended.

DAVE TATUM rambled to the nine, and Keeling burst through the Belleville defensive front to the Lancer three, setting up a second and goal. But on the next play, the ball was stripped loose from Konovich, and Belleville East recovered.

But the Warriors got the ball back. The Lancers' Jim Sinovic coughed up the football on the following play, and Warrior linebacker Steve Novich regained possession for Granite City.

Konovich got the call again, but this time the Warrior fullback banged in from four yards out to give Granite City the lead.

"I'm just glad I got a second chance," said Konovich. "I'll probably remember that fumble more than I will the touchdown. But I got a thank coach for having enough faith in me to give me a second chance."

RYAN WEEKS booted the extra point for Granite City to close out the scoring, but the contest was far from being over.

Belleville East took the ensuing kickoff and went to work from their 19 yard line. Lancer quarterback Ed Rust ran the option play well, as he romped around right end for an eight yard gain. Halfback Randy Schmidt scooted 11 yards to the 36, and then Schmidt pulled in a screen pass and bolted down the right sideline for 13 more yards.

The Lancers marched down to the Warriors' 29 yard line, but Rust's third down pass was intercepted by Granite City's Pat Griffith. Griffith had halted out the Warriors this time, but the Granite City defense would be tested a few more times before the final gun sounded.

THE WARRIORS moved over at their own 30, but a stingy Belleville defense forced Granite City into a fourth and 15 situation.

Steve Davis' punt was blocked, and the Lancers regained possession at the Warrior 15-yard line with 3:32 left in the half.

Here the Warrior defense slammed the door on the Lancers. Two running plays brought Belleville to the 11, but Rust's third-and-six pass was picked off near the goal line by Granite City's Dave Gushoff.

WITH TIME ticking away, Keeling hammered out seven yards and picked up a first down for the Warriors. It allowed Granite City to run out the remaining 2:11 in the half.

In the third period, the teams employed their ground games. Belleville East used Sinovic's bruising running style, along with quarterback keepers on the option, to eat up yardage. But the Lancers never penetrated the Granite City 40.

The Warriors relied primarily on the rushing of Dave Tatum and Keeling to keep moving the ball, but, like the Lancers, Granite City didn't threaten to score in the third quarter.

Then the fourth quarter began, and it was nail-biting time for the Warrior faithful.

WITH 10:44 remaining in the contest Belleville East owned the ball at their own 48.

Sinovic powered his way over Warrior tacklers to the Granite City 41. Carries by Rust, halfback Mike Oliver, and Sinovic pulled the ball to the 28, before a personal foul penalty on the Warriors sent the ball down to the 12-yard line.

Again, the Warrior defense turned away the Lancers.

Sinovic struggled for three yards up the middle. Then Rust picked up two yards on the option around right end.

On third and five from the seven, Novich came up with another big play for Granite City when he batted down a pass near the goal line.

THEN ON fourth down, Schmidt was picking up steam as turned the left corner, but Graves came up from his safety spot and stopped the Lancer ballcarrier for a one-yard gain.

The Warrior offense took over at their own six.

Three running plays later, Granite City was in punt formation, and the Lancers would have one more chance with 4:24 showing on the clock.

Belleville East started from their 47-yard line. Rust pitched the ball to Schmidt who went around left end for a five yard gain. Next, Rust scooted the ball off to Bob Eagan who scampered 15 yards to the Granite City 38.

RUST THEN zipped a pass out to Eagan, a senior tri-captain, for another first down at the Warrior 25. Sinovic blasted his way to the 17 yard line, and it looked as if the Granite City defense was finally going to buckle under.

They didn't.

On second and three from the 17, Moran, a senior tri-captain, threw Rust to the turf for no gain. Then on the following play, Moran pounced on a Lancer fumble to give the ball back to the Warriors.

All Granite City had to do was to run out the clock. But with 1:47 remaining and with Belleville East still having all three timeouts, the Warriors would have to pick up a first down.

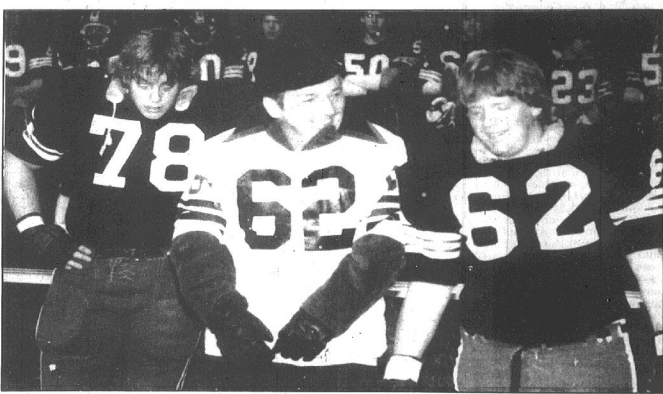

THE KEY play came with 1:30 left. After two Tatum carries, Granite City faced a third and six from the 20-yard line. Cole dropped back in the pocket and then launched a pass to Graves, streaking down the left sideline. The senior speedster hauled in the throw for a 25-yard gain, a Warrior first down, and for what appeared to be the play that put the game on ice.

But, little they say, the opera ain't over till the fat lady sings.

Well, the fat lady must have just been clearing her throat, because a fumble in the Warrior backfield gave Belleville East the ball back and yet another opportunity to pull out a victory.

WITH 30 seconds on the clock, the Lancers owned the pignin at the Granite City 38-yard line. On first down Rust's pass was knocked away near the 20 yard line by Gushoff.

Graves sealed the Warriors' victory on the next play; when he step-

SENIOR DAY. Two of Granite City High School's three captains, Tim Moran (62) and Chris Luffman (78), were among the seniors honored before Friday night's Southwestern Conference football game with Belleville East. Flanking Moran is his father, George, who, with all parents of the seniors, were honored in a pre-game ceremony. Moran, a lineman for the Warriors, played his best high school game. Coach Ron Yates said after the Warrior victory.

ped in front of the intended receiver and intercepted Rust's throw with 29 seconds remaining.

The game belonged to the defense, and in particular, to the seniors.

"The seniors came to play," said Stegemeier. "Moran, (Chris) Luffman, Graves, (Lonnie) Cook, Randy Davis, (Doug) Limbaugh, (Chris) Lilley — they all did an outstanding job. I'm really proud of that bunch."

IN THE gymnasium following the game, head coach Ron Yates spoke to his troops.

"This just goes to show you, that if you hang in there, if you keep fighting, you can make some of your own breaks," Yates said.

"Seniors, you put us back on track," he said. "Before I'm through (speaking), I want to single out someone. Tonight, he played the best game he's ever played in his life — Timmy Moran."

After most of the other players had showered and left the locker room, Moran sat on a bench in front of his locker.

"I WANT Warrior trainer Randy Biggerstaff to check out my body," he moaned. "You're not supposed to be this sore till the day after."

Moran had a satisfied smile on his face as he dressed.

Was it the best game you've ever played?

"I don't know about that. I got 13 flags one time when I was in fifth grade," Moran joked.

"Timmy and I have been playing football together since third grade," said Luffman, a senior tackle and tri-captain. "We've worked hard. Everything leads up to your senior year. That's the time to show yourself," Luffman said.

"It's great to go out a winner."

The Warriors finished their season with a 3-6 record which includes the two forfeit losses caused by the teachers' strike. Granite City placed fourth in the Southwestern Conference this year with a 2-3 mark in conference play.

Finish Season 4-5

Trojans win homecoming; whip Ritter in overtime 18-12

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

MADISON — The Madison Trojans saved their best for last as they turned a 12-0 halftime deficit into a 18-12 overtime victory Saturday afternoon against Cardinal Ritter.

On Madison's third down in overtime, Lanzo Nelson scooted five yards to cross the end line and give his team a homecoming victory. Minutes earlier, Cardinal Ritter's Gus Stewart had failed at a field goal attempt during his team's fourth down in overtime.

Madison coach Don Smith expressed happiness about the Trojans' fourth victory of the season, but he admitted things could have been easier against the winless opponents.

"WE ALMOST blew it," said Smith. "But I guess it just made it more exciting."

The Trojans launched their comeback in the third quarter when they scored two touchdowns in less than two minutes. The first score for the home team came during a 52-yard drive that ended with Darin Walker charging up the middle for a 43-yard run into the end zone.

Two pass interference penalties against Cardinal Ritter helped Madison gain 25 yards during the scoring drive. In the first penalty, receiver Rouzell Porter was bumped by a Cardinal Ritter defender to give Madison a 15-yard gain. In the second penalty, intended receiver Reggie Young was pushed to the ground before the pass was thrown.

CARDINAL Ritter coach Keith Ware said the penalties were the turning point.

"Those two interference calls hurt us," said Ware. "That led directly to the touchdowns."

In fact, penalties plagued Cardinal Ritter throughout the game. For the day, the team had 13 penalties worth a total of 137 yards. Madison, on the other hand, had five penalties for 55 total yards.

The score standstill at 12-6 as the Trojans' two-point conversion failed. Quarterback Chandler Terrell, chased by several Cardinal Ritter rushers, misplayed to Rouzell Porter in the end zone.

"He's wide open!" shouted Smith to his quarterback after the play. "You've got to shake them (defenders)."

TERRELL had been called into the game late in the first quarter after senior quarterback Nathan Young injured his arm. As he was asked, X-rays indicated no broken bones.

Smith's anger at Terrell quickly quieted when the Trojan defense came through on the first play after the kickoff. Quarterback Darrell Wayne was hit hard by several Madison rushers who popped the ball loose. Madison's Steve Petrosky pounced on the football to give the Trojans a first and 10 on Cardinal Ritter's 52-yard line.

Two plays later, Reggie Young weaved past several defenders and rushed 27 yards down the left side to put the score at 12-12 with 1:06 remaining in the third quarter. Once again the two-point conversion failed, on an identical pass play from Terrell to Porter.

ON FOURTH and 17, Terrell was intercepted by Gerald Rayford at the 25-yard line. With 1:33 left in the game, Cardinal Ritter took just six plays to work their way to Madison's 20-yard line — namely with a 42-yard burst by Curtis Ware.

Stewart was then called on to kick a field goal with seven seconds left. Although his kick was long enough, it strayed off to the left and sent the game into overtime.

After losing the coin toss, Madison pushed Cardinal Ritter back to the 10-yard line to the 14 in overtime. "We received some help from quarterback Wayne, who fumbled the ball on the team's second of four downs."

"THIS IS the first year he's ever played football," said Ware about his junior quarterback, who finished his first season at 0-9. "This year's experience should benefit next season."

The same holds true for the Madison team, according to Smith.

"We could have won a couple more games this year," said Smith, whose team ended the season at 4-5. "We need a lot of work — we've just scratched the surface."

"But you have to get a few things done at a time. The past two years it was discipline and the attitude of the players. Now we can go on to other things."

SMITH, ending his second year as head coach, said his juniors will return to next year's team. He is especially optimistic about the change in attitude.

"In years past, we were just going through the motions," he said. "Now we're playing like we want to win. You can help kids like that."

Warrior girls in State Meet

Team Advances To Peoria

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

SPRINGFIELD — The Granite City girls' cross country team will be returning to the state finals, thanks to a second-place finish Saturday at the Springfield Sectional.

The Warriors, who finished 23rd at last year's state championship, collected 109 points from their top five runners at Saturday's sectional. East St. Louis Lincoln ran away with first place, accumulating just 41 points.

"I'm really proud of these girls," said coach Dave McClain. "They rose to the occasion again, just as they've done throughout the season."

LORA WISER turned in Granite City's best performance as she finished second overall with an 11:36. Wiser was just a few seconds shy of veteran runner Melissa Straza from Bloomington, who finished with an 11:27.6.

"Lora ran a great race," said McClain. "I don't know if she's ever finished that close to Straza before. Lora pulled up on her that second mile."

Wiser, a junior, also nipped Eileen Schoenberg of Urbana University High at the finish line.

"That girl didn't even have any idea Lora was around," said McClain. "She couldn't hear her coming because it was so noisy."

"THERE WERE only 30 to 40 yards for Lora to catch her. She got her right at the gate."

McClain said Wiser's last-second sprint offers a new advantage for the runner.

"Her finishes are getting stronger," he said. "In these past few races, she seems like she has a kick — something she didn't have earlier in the season."

Because Straza was running as an individual since her entire team did not qualify, Wiser claimed first in the team competition finishes. East St. Louis Lincoln then made its appearance known, with their five scorers finishing in the top 19 overall.

"THEY RAN super, just like they did at the regional," said McClain about the nearby rivals. "They have a strong squad. I'd say they will probably finish in the top 10 at state, although I haven't seen all the teams from the north."

Granite City sophomore Melody Witt finished sixth for the Warriors, placing 27th overall with a 12:37. Witt, in her first year on the team, has proven to be the Warriors' brightest surprise.

"When she first came out, she didn't know what she could do," said

McClain. "She doesn't look very strong, but she's turning into a fine runner."

SOPHOMORE Sheila Noel finished 35th with a 12:40, followed closely by 37th-place finisher Michelle Shoemaker with a 12:44. Faye Patton, the final scorer for Granite City, took 58th place with a 13:06.

"We need to get her (Patton's) time down," said McClain. "She got boxed in at one section and that slowed her down a lot."

Also finishing for Granite City were freshmen Marianne Finn and Lori Pepe, taking 75th and 76th place overall with times of 13:22 and 13:23.

The team will leave for Peoria, site of the state finals, Friday morning in order to get a practice run on

Alton Loses In First Round

Fremd wins state title

ST. CHARLES, ILL. — The Alton High School Redbird soccer team found out just how tough competing in the Illinois High School Association's State Soccer Tournament is Friday as the Redbirds dropped their first-round game of the tourney to St. Joseph's 2-1.

Polatone (Fremd) went on to win the annual state soccer extravaganza by defeating Quincy Notre-Dame 1-0 Saturday evening. The Vikings and the Raiders battled through two sudden death periods before the game was eventually decided on penalty kicks.

The state champion Vikings end the season with a 24-4 record while the Raiders ended the season with a 20-4-2 state. Notre-Dame was one of the five teams the Warriors lost to earlier this season.

For the Redbirds, their lone score game in the first quarter of Friday's game against St. Joseph's Joe Herzon pushed in the only Redbird tally, but it wasn't enough as St. Joseph's rallied for the victory.

Herzon and Pat Hoag, were selected to the All-Tournament Team.

Jeb Blasingame, the Warriors' standout goalkeeper, was named to the All-State Team. Additional information about state selections will appear in Thursday's Press-Record.

GODFREY — This is the story of the early bird who didn't get the worm.

It was the Section 3 Regional Volleyball Tournament at Lewis & Clark Junior College Friday night. Pitted in the opening match of the four-team tournament was top-seeded Belleville Area College and Granite City Center, seeded fourth.

And guess who got there early for the 5 p.m. match?

Guess who didn't?

It was shortly after 4 p.m. when tournament director and Lewis & Clark Community College Coach Judy Gass walked into the gymnasium — elbow to elbow with the Lady Stars from Granite City Center.

"THEY WALKED in about the same time I did," said Gass. "It was about five minutes after four."

No doubt, the Lady Stars arrived breathing fire and thinking big things. A tall task awaited them. In the Lady Dutchmen, the Lady Stars faced a team that owned a 30-5 record, said a perfect 16-0 mark in the Midwest Junior College Athletic Conference.

The Lady Stars suited up and began practicing. And practicing, and practicing.

They were still practicing when the clock closed in on 5 p.m., and still no sign of the Lady Dutchmen.

ONE COULD only speculate as to why the Lady Dutchmen weren't there. And where could they be?

Gass looked worried. "They have a team that has been ranked. They've beaten Jefferson College. They have a real good shot at winning the Regional. I hope nothing has happened to them."

Lady Stars Coach Clabbe Briggs was caught in the middle. She was asked if she would rather not play and win on a forfeit, or play and lose?

"Neither one," she said.

It was about 5:07 when the call came that the Lady Dutchmen had arrived. When they walked into the gymnasium, they walked in a game down. According to rules, a team forfeits the first game if it arrives any later than the scheduled starting time.

LADY Dutchmen Coach Al Velie could only shake his head. It seems the Lady Dutchmen had trouble checking out the keys to one of the school's vans.

"A lot of red tape," he explained. "About 23 more minutes (rules declare that after forfeiting the first game, a team is allowed 15 minutes before forfeiting any subsequent games) of red tape, and the Lady Dutchmen would have been forfeit losers."

Though a game down, the Lady Dutchmen wasted little time in regaining the edge, scoring victories in the following two games, 4-15 and 1-15.

IT WAS in the fourth game when the Lady Stars reached back, and pulled out their finest effort of the season. The Lady Stars, with Jamie Essensper serving to begin the game, reeled off five points. During the rally, she scored points on two exceptional serves, one of which was an ace. Kelly Anderson also accounted for a point, with a sizzling spike.

When the Lady Stars' string of five straight points was cut, they started another string. It carried the Lady Stars into a 9-5 lead.

During the streak, Leifitia Miller broke one Lady Dutchmen service with a nifty block of a serve. Alecia Jones scored a point off a serve. The Lady Stars chalked up two more points with Veronica Williams serving. But nine points was all they would get. The Lady Dutchmen, making a few personnel adjustments, scored the next in points to win the game, 9-15, and the match.

THE LOSS ended the Lady Stars' season at 6-10. They ended with a flourish, and a good try.

"I think our girls played hard," said Briggs. "Their girls played better. That's why they won."

"That was the best our girls have played this season," Briggs said. "They played hard to win and wanted to win. That was the number one priority: to come here and win. They even got there early."

EDWARDSVILLE — Homecomings at colleges are traditionally fun things. Saturday afternoon at the annual homecoming festivities at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville the soccer Cougars won their game with the visiting Indians of Northeast Louisiana University, 3-1, to complete the home season for Coach Bob Guelfer and his chargers.

Next Saturday, the Cougars will attempt to close out their disappointing 8-7 season with a victory over the Falcons of the U. S. Air Force Academy out in Colorado.

For the second straight year

Guelfer and his Cougars have failed to qualify for the NCAA regional division 1 post-season tournament play. Just six years ago, the Cougars won the national soccer crown down in Tampa, Fl. The Cougars, Saturday, were a far different team than that one six years ago.

Artistically, however, the '84 Cougars weren't all that bad. In Saturday's final home game, they really dominated the game after that is, a dull, stumbling (0-0) first half. Northeast Louisiana U.'s kickers, of course, in their desire to perhaps score an upset, played their hearts out that first half. And the Cougars simply couldn't get themselves on track.

Finally, at 49:21, Bill Stallings on a combined assisting pass from G. P. Boyers and Steve Tristich, gave SIUE the lead, 1-0.

A little over 10 minutes later, Northeast tied it up. Marty Buckmeier, a defender, pushed a loose ball past the Cougar keeper, Dave Cappetta, for the equalizer.

But this time, the Cougars decided to play up to their potential and, within less than one minute after Northeast scored its goal, Bruce Beilinger took a pass from SIUE's Dan Malloy and scored at 60:28. Stallings made it 3-1 on a rebound off of one of his shots at 81:42. It was the storming Stallings' 14th (team leader) goal of the campaign.

Auto Racing
Rookie isTri-City's champBy JOE SENTER

GRANITE CITY — A local Granite City man has won track champion honors in his first year of auto racing.

Jim Wilson built himself a race car to compete at Tri-City Speedway, the local speedway, starting out with a 1974 Chevy LaGuna. He had a total of $300 invested. He accumulated the money for the car by hauling scrap auto parts to various salvage yards.

Wilson doesn't have a sponsor to help with his expenses, and he kept his street stock racer going by the winnings he received each Friday night at the Speedway.

Why does he work so hard at keeping his car running?

Wilson races because he like the sport and thinks it's great.

"It keeps him out of trouble," Wilson said.

He has been going to auto races for several years and in the last few years was chief mechanic for his brother-in-law Steve Kraus of Granite City.

When he started out the 1984 season, he was not expecting things to go the way they did. He took over the point lead on June 8th from Butch Argus, who was driving a Chevy Chevelle.

Wilson's remarks was "point leader," "what does that mean." He didn't know about the point system and was just doing this thing for fun.

"Now I am leading everyone in points. Does that mean I have finished better and have consistently finished ahead of all the racer guys Wilson looked at his pit crew member Larry Martin and said

"you must know how to make this black race run."

For the season, he had several heat race wins followed by second, third, fourth and fifth place finishes to keep him in the running for his first year rookie-of-the-year and the track champion of the street stock car division.

He finished fifth in the mid-season championship race. He finished all but two races and only missed one night of racing.

Wilson finished a very close second place in the season champion ship race, behind Darrell Hoffman of Milstadt.

He teaches school two nights a week at the Ruten Tech. Maybe we have another Wib Spaulding or A. J. Foyt coming up here at the Tri-City Speedway.

It will be interesting to see what race car division he will invade for the 1985 racing season.

Tickets are on sale now in the Wilson Park Office. The price of the tickets is $2 each, which includes a the course that afternoon. The girls' championships are scheduled to begin at 11:15 a.m. Saturday.

McClain wasn't making any bold predictions for his squad in the finals. Instead, he seemed to simply seek improvement over last season's outcome.

"I look for Lora to finish better than she did last year," said McClain. Wiser took 16th place.

"I'd like to see the team do better, too. Maybe we could get in the high teens. It'd be nice to be in the top 15, but I'm not going to say we're going to finish there."

Actually, McClain is rather satisfied with the performance so far.

"Just getting to state is the accomplishment," said McClain. "All the girls have worked hard and it has paid off."

Granite City woman enjoys advantages of new treatment

The use of chemotherapeutic drugs on cancer patients usually has meant a long and confining hospital stay for such patients. But a new procedure has been developed that allows some cancer patients at Barnes Hospital in St. Louis to leave the hospital and receive chemotherapy treatment at home with the help of a home health-care agency.

Jeanette Baldwin, a Granite City resident, is one of several patients receiving chemotherapy treatments at home through Barnes Hospital.

MRS. BALDWIN was given a portable, continuous infusion pump and 50cc bags of pre-mixed chemotherapeutic drugs. The battery-operated pump, which weighs approximately 10 ounces and is the size of a portable transistor radio, is worn by the patient on either a shoulder harness or waistband.

Tubes from the pump are connected to an infusaport, or central intravenous line, which has been surgically implanted in the patient's chest, allowing the medicine to travel directly into the veins, according to Barnes Hospital officials.

For Mrs. Baldwin, the pump means freedom to live an almost normal life at home with her family. "I was so unhappy in the hospital, because there was nothing to do," she relates. "Even though I was feeling good, I couldn't leave the room for the six days I was there. But now I'm completely mobile. I can even sleep with the pump on. In fact, if someone didn't know I was receiving chemotherapy through the pump, they would probably never suspect."

ONCE THE PUMP is set up in the patient's home, a visiting nurse takes over the responsibility of changing the patient's medicine bags daily. According to Mrs. Baldwin, the nurse stays for approximately one hour to mix the medicine, change the bag and check the pump to insure that it is working properly. The patient is instructed to call a hotline in case of emergency.

"I never feel concerned," Mrs. Baldwin comments. "Even though I live in Granite City, I know it will only take 20 minutes for a nurse to get here if I need help."

Physicians have found that certain cancer patients can be successfully treated through home chemotherapy treatments, and possibly suffer fewer side effects than from bolus chemotherapy injections.

MANY chemotherapeutic drugs, given as bolus injections, can create severe side effects because of the sudden systematic shock of high doses of chemical agents in the bloodstream. Studies have shown that, by giving these drugs through continuous infusion, the levels of gastrointestinal side effects, cardiac toxicity and hair loss are significantly reduced.

In addition, home chemotherapy, physicians say, can save the patient a substantial amount of money because the daily costs associated with in-hospital treatment, such as room costs, are eliminated. A study published in the "American Journal of Clinical Oncology" showed the cost of chemotherapy in a hospital to be approximately $10,000 for a month-long stay. In contrast, the 30-day course of chemotherapy at home was only $2,500.

Home chemotherapy has other advantages. According to Mrs. Baldwin, one of the greatest advantages for her is that there is no limitation to her activity, even when she is wearing the pump.

IN ADDITION to her home treatments, Mrs. Baldwin must receive two types of chemotherapy at Barnes. She must return to Barnes every six weeks to receive two of the treatments, as well as to have a checkup and have her infusaport flushed with heparin.

"If patients are interested in receiving chemotherapy at home, they should mention it to their doctors," she advises.

Although Mrs. Baldwin is pleased with receiving chemotherapy at home, she adds that she was scared about the procedure in the beginning. "I have had a lot of surgery in the past, but when I found out they would have to surgically place the infusaport under my skin, I was frightened," Mrs. Baldwin says.

"THE PORTABLE infusion pump is the greatest invention that has come about. It has changed my attitude completely about the treatments," Mrs. Baldwin comments. "You have to have a lot of confidence in yourself to make receiving chemotherapy at home work. But I think the whole procedure is fantastic. It has made me better all around."

GC WOMAN IS BEATEN,

DUMPED IN ST. LOUIS

Frances Richmond of Granite City reported last week that her former boyfriend threatened her with a handgun during an argument, but when officers arrived at the dwelling, she failed to speak up.

At 11:45 a.m. Tuesday, she made a further report, noting that after police left the house the man became further enraged and began kicking her and hitting her with his fist.

He threatened her and then forced her into an auto and drove to St. Louis, where he dumped her out of the car. A passerby found her and called an ambulance and she was taken to Christian Northwest Hospital for treatment before being released, she told police.

CANNABIS POSSESSION ALLEGED AGAINST TWO

Checking a group of youths congregating behind a pile of dirt in the National Food Store lot, Madison Avenue and Namecki Road, last week, an officer alleged a Mitchell boy, 15, had a cannabis cigarette. He was charged with possession of cannabis.

A Granite City boy, 15, walked away from the group but returned after the first arrest and began picking up items from the pavement. It was alleged he had a box containing a small amount of cannabis. At police headquarters, a plastic container with a marijuana pipe bowl was found when he was searched.

VENICE BREAK-IN REPORTED

Madison Garrett reported to Venice police last week that someone broke into Venice Cut-Rate Liquor Store, 337 Weaver St.

Police say the lock was broken from the door of the building and 10 cartons of cigarettes, 18 half-pints of whiskey and $16 in change had been taken.

ALLEGED NON-APPEARANCE

Mary Ellen Zerlan, 27, of 2431 Edison Ave., was brought by an Illinois State Police trooper to Granite City police station late last week in response to a local warrant alleging failure to appear in court on a speeding charge. She was freed upon posting a $52 cash bond, pending a hearing.

DICK ALLEN FOR STATE'S ATTORNEY

Dear Voter:

I seek your vote on November 6th for State's Attorney of Madison County. As a parent, a taxpayer and a lawyer of many years, I appreciate the need for tough, fair and efficient law enforcement. My past experience qualifies me for this important job because I have, in the past, served as an assistant State's Attorney for three State's Attorneys.

I will restore professionalism to the office; with professionalism will come the return of public respect and public confidence that justice will be administered vigorously and fairly in Madison County.

With regard to professionalism, if my opponent is re-elected to the office of State's Attorney of Madison County, it will be the first time in the history of this county or any county in this state that a State's Attorney has been re-elected to office while he was still under indictment which would cause his removal from office. The charge brought against him by the Grand Jury was that he manipulated Grand Juries for his own personal benefit. This is a class 4 felony!

My opponent claims to have reduced the costs of running the State's Attorney's office by his efficient administration of the office. This is not true. In fact, the cost of running the office was $94,000 more in 1983 than in 1980 which was the last year of his predecessor's term (Nick Byron). During all of the time that Weber has been in office, his wife has been on the payroll and she has spent very little time in the office. On June 8, 1984, the payroll record indicated that she received $22,600 per year.

During this year, this county has incurred many legal expenses because of Weber's conduct. He was indicted for Official Misconduct and a special prosecutor had to be employed to handle the case against him. This county has incurred great expense because of this.

Then, too, when Weber was indicted, his personal attorney had many cases on file in this county and a special prosecutor had to be appointed to prosecute the cases that Weber's lawyers were defending at more expense to the taxpayers.

In another case where the Appellate Court termed Weber's conduct "reprehensible" because of certain out of court statements Weber had made, another special prosecutor had to be appointed at more expense to the taxpayers. These special prosecutors have already cost this county more than $45,000 and there is much more to come.

It is time to get this vital office back on the right track. We shall be vigorous, fair and efficient. Please join with us on November 6th by voting for me for your next State's Attorney.

Sincerely,

Dick Allen

Honor students to collect funds for United Way drive

The National Honor Society of Granite City High School will help show that students help society and that the schools deserve support as they take up posts around area shopping centers and banks this Friday and Saturday to solicit funds for the Tri-Cities Area United Way.

This is the third year that the honor students have assisted the United Way in this manner. The Honor Society hopes to have about 70 students working during the drive.

The students hope that their contribution may push the United Way over its goal this year, since the drive is very close to a successful completion.

We also thought that this is just another good example of the good students do for the community and how we hope parents and others will help support the schools by voting for the two school referendums on Tuesday's ballot," a spokesman for the National Honor Society said.

Citizens note schools' tradition of excellence

Granite City schools' "tradition of excellence" was cited during the weekend by Citizens for Continued Education in urging "Yes" votes on the two school ballot proposals tomorrow.

"Despite the fact that the Granite City School District has been forced to close 10 schools and reduce the staff by more than 42 percent because of reduced income, the district has maintained a level of excellence second to no other district in the metropolitan area. Some examples that demonstrate the quality of this school district follow," the citizen group said.

1.) "Directly opposite to the national trend, our children achieve at or above the national average consistently. In fact, last year our eighth graders achieved one-half or more ahead of their anticipated achievement in all areas.

2.) "Last year our students won four awards in the American Patriotism Essay Contest.

4.) "Through the Academic Talent Search last year, 14 eighth grade students took college credit courses at Belleville Area College.

5.) "Cash awards have been won by many of our students through participation in programs such as the Lesche Literary Club, Talented Writers' Search, Airport Mural Contest, Optimist Writing Contest, English Department Award for Scholastic Contest and the English Department Award for Service.

6.) "The Foreign Language Department at Granite City High School is recognized as being one of the most advanced in the metropolitan area.

7.) "Students have had 40 articles published in the Illinois History Magazine. Students have won the best in the state award five times.

8.) "As a result of three students winning National Merit Semifinalist Awards in the Class of 1985, four students in the same class with ACCT scores of 34, first-place finishers in the Jet Team Competition, and above national average SAT scores, Granite City High is recognized as one of the best schools in this part of the state.

9.) "The debate team has won five sectional tournaments and more than 70 trophies. In the last 10 years, 15 speech students alone have received full tuition scholarships.

10.) "More than one-third of the district's secondary students participate in after-school athletics. Our student athletes have received numerous scholarships.

11.) "The Independent Reading Program at the elementary schools has encouraged the children to read more than 120,000 books per year. It has served as a model for similar programs all over Illinois and at least 20 states. It has been recognized for its excellence by the Illinois Reading Association.

12.) "In four years, the elementary Science Fair has grown from 75 exhibits to over 300.

13.) "Several of the local Spelling Bee champions have placed in the St. Louis area Spelling Bee.

14.) "The elementary Sports Day program has been copied by many districts in Illinois.

15.) "The Granite City School District has one of the largest and best organized parent volunteer programs in the area.

16.) "Each school provides regular newsletters as a means of keeping the parents and community informed of school activities.

17.) "Learning centers are provided at each elementary school. This program serves 100 percent of the elementary population and helps insure individualized instruction.

18.) "Comprehensive special education services are provided for students ranging from pre-school age to high school age.

19.) "Our gifted and honor student program is extended comprehensive and is considered one of the exemplary programs throughout the state.

20.) "Computer curriculums at all grade levels far exceed many such curriculums throughout the state.

21.) "Extensive health screening is conducted, preventing epidemic health situations.

22.) "Various drug awareness programs are available in this district to assist students, parents and the community at large."

Citizens for Continued Education concluded, "The list of achievements of the Granite City School District could go on and on."

"To maintain the standards this community has become accustomed to, it must have the support of the people in passing the bond issue and tax rate change on the Nov. 6 ballot."

An open letter to the voters in the Granite City School District from 11 students:

Dear Voters:

Do you remember when you were our age? Do you remember those carefree days when all you had to worry about was finishing your homework or whether your latest love still loved you? We've heard about your memorable days, and we hope to look back on days of our own and smile like you do.

Have you heard the proverb where a middle age man asked his elder who was digging, "Why are you planting a fig tree? You will not live long enough to see it bear fruit." The wizened old man continued working, while replying, "I have reaped sweet figs from trees all of my life that were planted by people with vision. I am planting this to pay off a small part of my debt to my elders who planted trees that they knew they would never see bear fruit."

We are hoping that you will plant a seed of vision on November 6 that will bear fruit in our lives. Please vote YES on the school bond and tax issues.

TV at 6 pm today on GC school facts

The final showing of a television program on Granite City School District facts is set for 6 p.m. today on South-Western Cable TV's Channel 1.

The program also was presented last week. It asserts:

"A test—What do you know about the school tax issues on the Nov. 6 ballot?"

"What programs might be eliminated if the proposals fail? Art, music, sports, learning centers and all classes and programs not strictly required by the state. Coaches for winter sports have not yet been officially signed to extracurricular contracts because they may not have sports to coach."

"If the two schools proposals are passed by voters Nov. 6, where would the new money be spent? It would be used to pay off outstanding debts that the district already has. (It would not go to salaries, not to school repairs and not to such things as sports uniforms.)"

"Real estate values would be affected by failure of these tax issues. One of the most important factors in maintaining the value of a home is the quality of the education provided by the local school district."

"Senior citizens will be better off if the two proposals pass. They might be the most negatively affected group over the next several years, if the proposals fail. Working-age people might be able to afford moving their families and absorbing some of the loss of depreciated real estate. But most retired people cannot afford to move."

"In some depressed areas of the nation, the elderly have seen once stable neighborhoods become places where they no longer feel safe; they feel trapped. So, they will benefit if Granite Cityans cast their 'yes' votes Nov. 6 to keep the schools local and this community strong."

"The school district debt did not stem from mismanagement. During the past four years, many factors combined to rapidly stack a mountain of debt on the district. The federal and state governments reduced their support of education, and local tax revenues decreased dramatically."

"If a homeowner's house has a market value of $48,000, he or she will pay property taxes on $16,000. Real estate taxes are applied on the basis of one-third of property's actual market value."

"The teacher strike did not add to the debt problem. Actually, the school district saved money during the strike by collecting interest on salaries not paid during that time."

"The last tax rate increase proposed by voters in District Nine was in 1969. The overall school rate has gone down in the last 15-year period."

"The Granite City School District has many reasons to be proud, including: The average SAT test score for Granite City graduates is higher than the national average. The vocational program is highly rated by the state for quality and is successful in placing graduates in jobs. And there is an exceptional extracurricular activities program in District Nine."

"If the school proposals fail and the district is 'taken over' by the state, no state money would be allocated to 'bail out' the district."

"Some students could be sent to Alton, others to Madison and others scattered throughout area schools. The district itself could be divided among surrounding districts. At that point, students would attend whatever schools the neighboring districts assigned them to attend."

"Homeowners in such an area of Granite City would then pay the tax rate of the neighboring district, with no representation on that school's board."

"The cost of the campaign to get the school proposals passed is being paid for by donations from concerned businesses and citizens. No tax money is being diverted from education."

"What percentage of lottery money goes directly to education? None. Politicians who campaigned for the state lottery to be passed promised that money from it would go mainly to education."

"However, between the time the promises were made and the bill was signed into law, language about earmarking funds for education was dropped. The lottery money goes in to the state's general fund (with some later going to the schools according to whatever aid formula is in effect)."

"How much does it cost to educate one child from kindergarten through high school? The answer is $34,000, an average of $2,700 a year in half-day kindergarten and the 12 years of all-day classes."

"How long would it take the family in an average home to pay for the education of just one of their children? The answer is 63 years. A family that has or has had more than one child in school could never possibly pay for all the educational services received."

"The privilege of freedom carries the responsibility of being an informed voter. Citizens for Continued Education are saying to voters: Please be informed and please vote on Tuesday, Nov. 6."

GC parents being asked to 'keep schools local, community strong'

A plea for "Yes" votes on the two Granite City school proposals in tomorrow's election is being voiced by Citizens for Continued Education.

Letters to parents of students were distributed last week by CCE, whose chairman is Mack G. Johnson. The group's treasurer is the Rev. Donald F. Pierson.

"The citizens committee told school families, 'Some people in our community refuse to face the reality of the regulations that control education in this state. They believe that idle threats are being made about our school district being dissolved and divided up among surrounding districts if the school money issues are not passed Nov. 6.'"

"These are not idle threats. The only things that are threatening are the facts of our situation. The $7.6 million in debt and is perched on the edge of bankruptcy."

1. "Our school district is the only one of its kind in the state. It is the only way of keeping our schools open and maintaining what we have now. No amount of cutting will erase the debt and keep our schools operating."

2. "If our school district goes bankrupt and cannot keep our schools open, the state will be forced to take control. The state will not bail out our district. If they did that, then every other district that needs money would wait for the state's help."

3. "The state could divide our schools into surrounding districts. What district your home would be placed in would be decided by the state. You would pay taxes to that district and, most importantly, your child could be bused to that district."

4. "The state could divide our schools into surrounding districts. What district your home would be placed in would be decided by the state. You would pay taxes to that district and, most importantly, your child could be bused to that district."

"Many people have said that before they would let this happen to their children, they would move to a different school district."

"Who would buy their houses? Would you? Real estate values would drop because many houses would be put up for sale, and not many people would want to move into such an educational disaster area."

"If some people refuse to believe that this will happen, let's look at what would happen if by some miracle the regulations are changed and the state would just cut programs. Here is a partial list of what would be severely affected or completely cut:

— "Elementary physical education."

— "Elementary music and art."

— "Elementary learning centers."

— "Computer education."

— "Vocational programs."

— "Sports programs."

— "School plays."

— "College-credit classes."

— "Class size."

— "Band."

— "Honors program."

— "North Central Association rating."

— "The Granite City School District has many reasons to be proud, including: The average SAT test score for Granite City graduates is higher than the national average. The vocational program is highly rated by the state for quality and is successful in placing graduates in jobs. And there is an exceptional extracurricular activities program in District Nine."

"If the school proposals fail and the district is 'taken over' by the state, no state money would be allocated to 'bail out' the district."

"Some students could be sent to Alton, others to Madison and others scattered throughout area schools. The district itself could be divided among surrounding districts. At that point, students would attend whatever schools the neighboring districts assigned them to attend."

"Homeowners in such an area of Granite City would then pay the tax rate of the neighboring district, with no representation on that school's board."

"The cost of the campaign to get the school proposals passed is being paid for by donations from concerned businesses and citizens. No tax money is being diverted from education."

"What percentage of lottery money goes directly to education? None. Politicians who campaigned for the state lottery to be passed promised that money from it would go mainly to education."

"However, between the time the promises were made and the bill was signed into law, language about earmarking funds for education was dropped. The lottery money goes in to the state's general fund (with some later going to the schools according to whatever aid formula is in effect)."

"How much does it cost to educate one child from kindergarten through high school? The answer is $34,000, an average of $2,700 a year in half-day kindergarten and the 12 years of all-day classes."

'Local control' input

"The citizens group continued in its letter to parents. 'When these items have been slashed, the North Central evaluating association would lower our school rating, which would reduce our students' chances of entering good colleges. This would then keep many families out of the school system, which would have devastating effects on our community and our real estate values.'

"So, you see, no matter which route you believe will take them, they both (if the vote is negative) mean devastation for our schools and our community."

"The fact does remain that cuts alone will not erase our debt."

"(Unless the proposals pass) the state will be forced to follow the course mapped by the regulations:

1. "State control."

2. "Cuts in all non-mandated programs."

3. "Probation."

4. "Disolution of the district."

5. "Division of our community into other school districts."

"If you or someone you know just cannot believe that this could happen, ask just one question: Is holding onto $1 or $2 a week worth the risk of losing all that we hold dear in our schools and our community?"

"Please help keep our schools local and our community strong. We are going to mark 199 and 223 for our schools on Nov. 6. Are you?"

St. Louisans are arrested after high-speed chase

'Trial By Jury' at SIUE Tuesday

"Trial By Jury," Gilbert and Sullivan's spoof on jurisprudence, will be performed by the Opera Theatre of St. Louis at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday in the Communications Building Theater at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. There is no admission charge.

A true opera, since there is no spoken dialogue, the tone is still typically light and the action swift. The production has been underwritten by a grant from Citicorp and the Opera Theatre receives funding from the Arts and Education Council of Greater St. Louis, the St. Louis Community Foundation, the Missouri Arts Council and the National Endowment for the Arts. The performance at SIUE is co-sponsored by the department of music and the Student Program Board.

"The fact does remain that cuts alone will not erase our debt."

"(Unless the proposals pass) the state will be forced to follow the course mapped by the regulations:

ALL ENDORSE DON WEBER for Re-Election:

Granite City Press-Record

Webster's "Aggressiveness has put many criminals behind prison bars, helping make Madison County a safe place to live, work, play and shop — in sharp contrast to many places in the U.S."

We feel Weber's overall record as a prosecutor is unmatched in its depth, variety, innovations, technology, perseverance and success."

Collinsville Herald

"... The bottom line is that this county now has a strong and vigorous prosecutor, someone who is not afraid to take on political corruption as well as the criminal element. . . . The incumbent deserves the right to serve Madison County four more years. For Don Weber."

St. Louis Globe-Democrat

"The choice in this election is obvious. . . . The Globe Democrat endorses Weber because he has not backed away from the tough, controversial cases. He has a certain prosecutorial instinct that should shame those prosecutors who lack it. . . . He cares as much about the rights of those victimized by crime as about the rights of those who commit the crimes."

With Weber prosecuting, more criminals are going to jail and staying longer."

Weber has been a thorn in the side of corrupt politicians and violent criminals in Madison County. He promises to seek both even more during his second term. County voters should make sure Don Weber has that second term."

ALTON TELEGRAPH

"Weber has proven himself capable of prosecuting major criminal cases and is a hardliner on crime."

Weber has given many people confidence that someone in office cares about trying to seek out official corruption, and if it exists, see it through to the prosecution state."

Weber does have an impressive record of convictions in difficult cases. He has been criticized for being overly concerned about news coverage and publicity. However, he feels awareness is part of educating the public about active prosecution and crime prevention."

We think Don Weber deserves a second term. We suspect Weber's is correct in maintaining he has matured in the office and could be more effective if not continuously under fire from the opposition."

Price endorses school issues

U.S. Congressman Melvin Price has endorsed the Granite City school bond issues claiming they are "vital to the future stability and economy of Granite City."

According to Price, the referendum, if passed Tuesday, will provide funds needed to maintain high-caliber education and pay off the more than $7.6 million debt owed by the Granite City School District. "Quality education benefits the city and communities in many ways," said Price. He said that business and industry are more likely to relocate to Granite City if they can depend on quality public schools. "I believe these two bond issues will affect all of the citizens of Granite City, as taxpayers, as homeowners, as parents, and as citizens who believe the next generation should enjoy the opportunities we've enjoyed," said Price.

According to Price, Granite City schools produce students who achieve among the highest SAT scores in the area and send students to college and vocational schools well prepared.

"Although we've been hit hard by the bad economy, Granite City has a tradition of educational excellence that has kept property values high and the communities strong and stable," said Price.

"Granite City citizens should be proud of this commitment to educational excellence," he said.

File sealed on Mrs. Boyle case

An agreement among prosecuting and defense attorneys has led to an order to seal the case file of Barbara Gusewelle Boyle, accused of participating in the murder of her husband and his parents.

In addition, Madison County Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill has imposed a gag order on the attorneys.

O'Neill told the Press-Record that he took the action "to try to protect the defendant's right to a fair trial and to minimize the pre-trial publicity."

The court order seals from public view all motions, orders or other documents filed in the case. The order also requires State's Attorney Don W. Weber to remove a photograph from a slide show he uses as part of his re-election campaign.

Weber said the slide shows Arthur and Venita Gusewelle's house. The couple was killed in 1977 and Mrs. Boyle is accused of three counts of murder for those killings and the 1979 murder of her husband, Ronald Gusewelle.

Schools called efficient and inexpensive

A comparison of the 25 largest school systems in the bi-state metropolitan area shows that Granite City schools are being operated efficiently and economically, according to Citizens for Continued Education.

The citizen group was formed to urge "YES" votes Nov. 6 on two Granite City School District financial proposals—a working cash fund bond issue and a change in the education rate limit.

A CCE spokesman said today, "The average class size in the largest 25 districts is 17.4, ranging from 13.9 to 21.7 students per class. The average class size in Granite City is 21.4."

"The average starting teacher salary in the 25 districts is $19,464, ranging from $13,500 to $18,000. The lowest teacher salary in Granite City District Nine is $15,100."

"In these same school districts, the average high salary for experienced teachers is $31,684, varying from $27,200 to $36,900. The highest teacher salary in Granite City is $29,200."

"The average property tax rate for the 25 largest school districts in the St. Louis area is $4.03, ranging from $2.66 to $5.66. The property tax rate here is $3.50."

$5,000 BOND IS ORDERED

Thomas E. McIntyre, 28, of 2619 Denver St. was booked by Granite City police Thursday night on an Oct. 30 warrant alleging battery. Circuit Judge George Moran Jr. set his bond at $5,000.

Many GC school cutbacks in last 10 years, but quality programs maintained

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

The case for two school "YES" votes by Granite City voters tomorrow can be summed up as follows:

A. Squeezed by enrollment and financial trends in the past decade, School District Nine cut back sharply in trying to make ends meet, while simultaneously avoiding cutting educational quality.

B. The current financial crisis is such that—without taxpayers' help in Tuesday's election—big program reductions are unavoidable, adversely affecting the caliber and variety of instruction.

"THESE ARE THE BASIC contentions by Citizens for Continued Education, who are leading the campaign for voter approval of an education rate limit increase and a working cash fund bond issue."

Joining in the push for "YES" votes are the Board of Education, Superintendent of Schools Frank L. Kraus and the district's staff.

Citizens are continuing to contact voters by telephone and on a door-to-door basis, Mack G. Johnson, chairman of the committee, said during the weekend.

EVEN MORE IMPORTANT than speculation about which classes or activities may be eliminated, Johnson and Supp. Kraus say is the question of whether District Nine will be able to continue to exist.

Without local control of the public schools, the entire community and its residents would be harmed in many ways, they assert.

Citing staff reductions, the superintendent notes that the number of district employees was 1,121 in 1973-74, dropping yearly to 1,111 in 1974-75, to 1,079 in 1976-77 and then to 1,060 and 1,035.

THE STAFF DECREASED to 954 in 1979-80, to 944, to 871, to 843 in 1982. It is 834 in 1983 and to 843 in the current year of '84-85.

The number of students was decreasing 36 percent in the same time period. The school staff was cut 42.64 percent, Supp. Kraus says.

Administrators were reduced 52.94 percent, 51 individuals to 24; teachers reduced 42.29 percent, 733 to 423; and cooks 56.45 percent, 124 to 54.

CUSTODIANS WERE reduced in number by 48.76 percent, 121 to 62; secretaries 42.86 percent, 63 to 36; and campus monitors 33.33 percent, three to two.

Maintenance tradesmen increased by one, from 17 to 18; teacher assistants rose by two, eight to 10; and non-certificated supervisors increased by one, from four to five.

The committee cites the following points in its explanation of why citizens should vote affirmatively on the two school issues:

"If we don't pass these two proposals...

1. "WE WILL BE FORCED to provide only the minimum education required by the state. Programs considered essential to modern education will be terminated. The quality of education we have provided for the children of our community will be badly undermined."

2. "Our school district may be dissolved by the state. We will then lose control of our schools."

"We might find ourselves forced to consolidate with surrounding communities' school districts, with our school buildings taken over by the consolidated district."

"PEOPLE WILL HAVE far less control over how their education tax dollar is spent, how school facilities are used and, most important, how local children will be educated."

"Our community will then be taxed by the consolidated district."

"Our property values will decline. Bankers, business people and realtors across the nation agree that—when a community's school district is in decline—before long property values throughout the community decline. When this happens, businesses and families don't move in—they move out."

4. "GRANITE CITY will decline. When property values decline, businesses will not locate or remain in a community. When school systems and property values decline, families and homeowners will relocate.

"As a result, the tax base will erode, and the community will have a hard time providing services like firefighting, police protection and sanitation. The burden to make up the lost revenue falls on those who haven't left."

5. "This community will continue to pay education taxes, but to someone else. We believe it is better to pay these taxes to a district that residents have some control over, rather than to a neighboring community."

6. "NOBODY LIKES TO SEE his or her real estate tax increase. But it is even more expensive to have the value of one's property decline."

"That is what is at stake in the voting on the two school proposals Nov. 6," the citizens assert.

"That is why we are urging everyone to vote 'yes' by punching 199 and 223 on the ballot."

GOP takes positions on amendment and Johnson

The Madison County Republican Central Committee has officially taken two positions on special referendum Nov. 6. The positions were unanimously approved by the committee, according to GOP Chairman Dr. Edward Ragsdale.

"First we urge all citizens to vote yes on the proposed amendment to Section 6 of Article 9 of the state constitution providing veterans' organizations with property tax exemptions."

"As Republicans, we are proud of the men and women who have served their country in the Armed Forces. Many veterans' organizations have financial problems which would be greatly helped by a property tax exemption. This small tax loss would be insignificant."

"Second, we urge all citizens to vote no on the retention of Circuit Judge William E. Johnson. Unfortunately, Madison County has a reputation as a lawsuit paradise, causing liability rates here to be among the highest in the nation. Judge Johnson has favored liability cases from all over the United States coming into Madison County, clogging our courts and causing considerable expense for our taxpayers."

"Judge Johnson has low ratings in judicial polls, being found 'not recommended' in one. His record on appeals to the appellate and state supreme Court is very bad."

During the last six years, a search by the Westlaw Computer at St. Louis University law library showed that Judge Johnson had only one case affirmed, 10 cases reversed and one case affirmed in part. Defeat of Judge Johnson would be a substantial reform of our courts," the GOP statement said.

Moran encourages Optimists to vote for school bonds

Former Appellate Court Justice George Moran Jr. urged members of the Granite City Optimist Club Thursday to vote for the Granite City school bond issues on the Nov. 6 ballot.

"The education we've had in this community for our kids has been such an asset," he commented. "I hate to see the school system in the hole it is in now. They (the school district) had $900,000 shut off from state aid. When you have that much shut off, you've got to get it from somewhere else."

Moran predicted that in the future, the state will have to assume the financial burden of school systems, because "a bond issue each year is not the answer."

Moran, a Democrat, also spoke of his support for U.S. Representative Paul Simon, who is challenging Republican Charles Percy for the U.S. Senate. Percy supporters declined to send a speaker to the meeting.

In other club action, it was announced that Youth Appreciation week will be observed Nov. 13 at St. Peter's Evangelical United Church of Christ.

EARLY MORNING WARRANT

Stopped by a Madison County deputy sheriff at Route 203 and Interstate 270 late last week, Charles W. Milam, 39, of Edwardsville was brought to Granite City police headquarters on a warrant alleging speeding. He was released after posting $102 bail.

Don W. Weber
STATE'S ATTORNEY
MADISON COUNTY

Dear Voter,
Madison County is your home. Its government is your government. The Office of State's Attorney is the keystone of our justice system. Every time a public official takes a bribe, honest taxpayers are the true victims. Every time a home is burglarized, and your own safety is threatened, your community is harmed and your own safety is threatened.

The quality of your life depends on the quality of your government. Only vigorous, fearless enforcement of the law can insure the safety of your community and the honesty of your government. As State's Attorney, I have demonstrated my commitment to the principle of fair and vigorous enforcement of the law. And, with the help of your fine police officers, we have crime and corruption on the run. Let's keep crime and corruption on the run. On November 6, punch #139 for continued commitment to honest, fearless law enforcement. Your vote and support are appreciated.

Barton probe will continue

By JIM WOODCOCK

A new grand jury will be called to continue an investigation of the Madison County supervisor of assessments' office, special prosecutor Bruce Locher says.

Locher won't reveal when the investigation will begin, but said he has "solid information" to give the grand jury.

"I'M CURRENTLY putting things together for that purpose," Locher told reporters. "But that's about all I'm saying now for obvious reasons."

Locher led the grand jury that turned in an 18-count indictment Sept. 21 against Supervisor of Assessments James Barton, a Board of Review member and two others.

Locher said he received new information just before that grand jury session ended and there was not enough time to pursue any leads.

Locher's status as special prosecutor did not end with that grand jury's adjournment Sept. 21.

ALSO, Locher said he will challenge a judge's ruling Oct. 26 that resulted in the dismissal of a suit which sought to remove Barton from office.

Associate Circuit Judge Norman Kinder of Granite City dismissed the suit with prejudice, which means it cannot be refilled.

"It certainly wasn't the ruling we had hoped for or anticipated, but I'm not sure whether he can do that or not," Locher said.

"We plan to pursue the matter further," he said. "It is not a deal issue."

STATE'S ATTORNEY Don Weber said he is glad Locher plans to continue the investigation and challenge Kinder's ruling.

"I think this is very interesting that the grand jury investigation will continue," Weber said. "But as you know, I'm not a part of that case."

Weber was removed from the probe by the courts in March. Locher was later appointed by an outside judge to take over the investigation.

Weber said he agrees with Locher's view of Kinder's ruling. "I would think that something can be said further on the case after dismissal," he said.

Locher had no comment on particular plans to challenge the ruling.

THE SUIT, a quo warranto action sought to remove Barton from office because he had not filed a statement of economic interest in 1982 and 1983. State law requires appointed officials to file an annual statement when their outside income exceeds a certain amount. Public officials must immediately forfeit their office if they do not file, the law says.

Kinder dismissed the motion for several reasons, but primarily because the suit denied Barton due process of law. Kinder said the quo warranto action was unfair because criminal charges against Barton have not yet come to trial.

Barton was indicted Sept. 21 on nine counts of official misconduct, three counts of bribery, and one count each of conspiracy to commit bribery and conspiracy to commit official misconduct.

THE QUO warranto motion stemmed from one of the official misconduct counts.

Barton's attorney, J. William Lucco of Edwardsville, argues at a hearing Oct. 25 in East Alton that the suit was discriminatory because many public officials had not filed statements of economic interest.

Lucco named Weber as one of the public officials who did not file a statement.

Weber said he filed his statement in Springfield when he was appointed to the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission. He said he thought that covered him in Madison County, but found out recently that it did not.

WEBER SAID he filed a new statement in the county clerk's office last week that lists no outside interests.

Weber said Barton recently filed a statement that also showed no outside interests. However, Weber noted that the indictments charge Barton with accepting contributions for his legal defense fund in exchange for altering property assessments.

Weber said several of the contributions were in excess of $500, and those must be listed on statements of economic interest.

Barton's defense fund was created after he was indicted in 1982 on an unrelated charge.

COUNTY BURGLARIES REPORTED

The Madison County Sheriff's Department is investigating two burglaries reported last week.

Dr. Pankaj Shah, 4600 Maryville Road, told deputies that a 13-inch color television valued at $475 had been taken from the bedroom of his home. In addition, a video-cassette recorder valued at $1,000 and a Kenwood stereo receiver valued at $550 had been taken from the living room.

Jerry Gibson, 2683 Highway 67, reported to the sheriff's department that numerous items valued at $30,000 had been taken from a storage shed last week.

After stopping an auto at Niedringhaus Avenue and State Street late last week, an officer charged John W. Fetter, 18, Rural Route Two, with transporting beer and Kenneth C. Dickinson, 22, Rural Route Two, and Robert E. Fetter II, 19, of 1715 Garfield Ave. with possessing beer.

Local family to appear on 'Feud'

Quad-City area residents may view the television debut of the Amerik Kachigian family when KMOX, Channel 4, airs the game show "Family Feud" at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 6.

The Kachigian family flew to Los Angeles, Calif., at the expense of the game show to tape their efforts in the "name something" competition Sept. 7. And although the Kachigians were unsuccessful in defeating a competing family, Norma Kachigian said the experience "was wonderful."

Amerik and she, daughters Lydia and Claudia, and son Armand, of 2860 State St., did earn $245 during the competition, and the show's producers gave them an additional $100 for the daughter who attends law school.

In addition to those earnings, Mrs. Kachigian said, the show awarded the family such gifts as five bicycles, five cameras, five wine sets, cosmetics and backpacks. Mrs. Kachigian added the show's producers paid for all of the family's expenses, including their hotel room and rented car.

The Forum...

Suggests yes and no in ballot responses

To the Editor:

Although I favor passage of the bond issue, selling $6.6 million in working cash bonds at the approximate rate of 40 cents per $100 assessed valuation, I urge voting no on the education fund tax rate increase of 40 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

This tax increase will supposedly generate an extra million dollars per year for the school district.

From facts given by Citizens for Continued Education members, we will only need this tax for one to two years at the most to clear our debt.

However, the tax would not be repealed at that time, but would give the school board another million to "play with" each year at our expense.

With the pending sale of another school and retirement of older teachers at the $30,000 salary level in the next few years, money would be available within the system.

In efforts to pass both issues, our interim superintendent suggested possible budget cuts if the issues don't pass.

Learning centers — one of the best diagnostic tools for our elementary students — was high on the list.

For a system so concerned about education, does this make sense? We've been toyed with enough.

Our area within the last four years was one of the hardest hit by unemployment. Many families are still trying to recover from salary and benefit cuts, layoffs and loss of jobs from area industry.

We have been astonished by many in this campaign for our low educational tax rate.

We were even compared to the Parkway School District, which encompasses many wealthy St. Louis West County neighborhoods. Could our average home owner's income begin to compare with theirs?

Certainly they would be able to support a higher education fund tax rate.

We are not the prosperous town we once were and I feel it is unfair to expect voters — homeowners — to be burdened with a second tax increase for the education fund. I suggest:

vote no, 224.

WOMAN TAXPAYER

VOTING ASSURES A GOOD GOVERNMENT

To the Editor:

If you're one of the million of no-shows on Election Day, then don't complain when government of the people, by the people and for the people becomes government of the few, by the few and for the few.

Should that happen, we will find ourselves more anguished than amused by this classic jab at political dropouts:

They have such refined and delicate palates
That they can discover no one worthy of their ballots.

And then when someone terrible gets elected
They say, "There, that's just what I expected!"

When a voter stays home, he or she increases the value of someone else's vote. Often the gainers are well-organized special-interest groups, while the losers are those most in need of political representation.

Necessities more important than schools

To the Editor:

I read with interest your articles Oct. 25, "Will Granite City continue to have a school system?" and "Teachers say funds are for debt."

Since when did teachers decide how the tax money will be spent? Is this a reverse-type pressure the teachers have put on the school board? The 40-cent educational fund tax could be used for teacher raises, couldn't it?

Since when did you have to vote twice to get enough money for a bond issue? Why, instead of two 40-cent raises, didn't they just have one 80-cent raise?

When will the 40-cent educational fund tax, be taken off, or is it a forever tax, for teachers' raises after the second year?

The biggest joke of all in the article was that — your income is limited or fixed — how can you do without small items and help the schools?

This doesn't fit too good with me, since I am on a fixed income. And I'll be damned if I eat less, or do less, for the sake of the schools.

I suggest more writer ask Ill. Power, Bell Telephone, etc., to lower their prices. Then maybe I'd have a little extra for the schools.

They seem to think that just a "few taxpayers" are involved in this. But a tax increase and bond issue will hurt all, even the ones who rent, since you know that a landlord is not going to absorb a tax bite of $100 to $300 per year. He will just pass the hike on to his renters and let them suffer.

I urge all senior citizens, and all others on a fixed income, to vote a big no on all the bond issues, and spend their money for the necessities they need.

OLD AND ANGRY

Alderman urges 'Yes' vote on school issues

To the Editor:

Over the last several months you have heard and read many issues concerning the upcoming school bond issue. I hope you have weighed all the facts and will join me in voting "Yes" in support of the future of our schools.

It's our duty and responsibility to pick up our community by its bootstraps and pull our community together.

What better way to build a strong town than to have a strong school system to educate our young.

Join all the concerned organizations: Realtors, Chamber of Commerce, Parent-Teacher Association, professional people, parents, individuals, and students who have helped and are supporting this worthy cause.

Vote "Yes" and help give the youth of today a strong education for tomorrow.

JAKE VARADIAN,
Alderman Fifth Ward

Defending Percy, Price on Clean Air Act

To the Editor:

I am writing regarding your Sept. 27 editorial entitled "Fighting Emission Testing." We are in agreement that automobile emissions testing probably is not going to change the quality of the air in the Metro-East area one bit.

As you know, I opposed auto emission testing in Illinois with every resource that I had at my command but to no avail. I reluctantly signed legislation imposing emission control legislation to prevent the risk of losing millions of dollars in federal highway money.

This testing is required by the Clean Air Act enacted by Congress and we in Illinois fought it as long as we possibly could. But the greater financial impact of the loss of federal highway funds would have adversely affected more of our citizens than the financial burden imposed by emissions testing.

Although I share in your disapproval of the vehicle inspection/maintenance program, I do not agree with your criticism of U.S. Senator Charles H. Percy and Congressmen Melvin Price. Neither of these men are personally responsible for the inspection/maintenance program for neither man sits on Congressional committees having jurisdiction over the Clean Air Act. Their only opportunity to modify this requirement of the Clean Air Act is when the Act is debated by the full House or Senate.

Despite the fact that the Clean Air Act expired in 1981, neither the House or the Senate has moved a bill to floor action. Thus, blaming Senator Percy and Congressman Price is inappropriate and unfair.
